HT (31 March 1855) Trout Fishing--Those of our clients, gentlemen of early leisure, boys, etc., who have the time, are devoting it to trout fishing. The brooks and creeks emptying into the bay are filled with speckled trout, who readily bit at almost any bait and in consequence our tables are kept supplied with that most luscious variety of fish.

HT (26 Jan. 1856) John M. Dyer offers his 160 acre farm known as Dyer's claim for sale. Situated three miles in southeasterly direction from Union and lying on Jacoby Creek. Choicest land for agricultural purposes; some fenced land; some cultivated; houses and outbuildings.

HT (22 June 1861) Road Around the Bay--Road overseer Stokes of the Union District has been at work on the road at the upper end of the bay and has completed a good carriage road as far this way as Brainard's Point. It is his intention we believe to continue the same kind of a road to the southern extremity of his jurisdiction. When Mr. Long shall have expended the labor due on this road in his district, we shall have pretty fair wagon navigation between this town and Arcata.

HT (22 March 1862) On Friday night of last week, David Roe started from Dyer's Landing with a scow load of hay, consigned to John Chapman, Eureka. When off Union Wharf the wind sprung up causing considerable sea and the scow filled and sank....

HT (9 Aug. 1862) Wagon Road to Arcata--The road from this place to Arcata, around the Bay, which is now opened, is a good piece of work and reflects credit upon the overseers of both districts, Messrs. Waite and Daby. We are truly glad to announce the completion of this much needed enterprise; it is a matter of importance to the community at large, as well as of great convenience to the dwellers on the Eastern Shore.

The first trip over the road on wheels was made by C.W. Long and J. Traney on Thursday. Charley has promised us the use of his new carriage and that spanking team, Prince and Boxer, "some of these fine days...."

HT (9 May 1863) Beat It--Capt. W.H. Fauntleroy of Arcata caught a trout on Saturday last in Jacoby's Creek which weighed two pounds and three ounces and measured twenty-nine inches. It was a genuine speckled trout and the largest we ever heard of.

HT (2 Sept. 1863) Road to Arcata--We hear repeated complaints made in regard to the condition of a portion of the road between this place and Arcata--that it is very much in need of repairs. The portion complained of is that lying between Mr. J.S. Long's and Mr. Mel Robert's place....

HT (12 Sept. 1863) Salmon--These fish are abundant in our bay just now, being the commencement of the fall run. There is much sport in fishing for them at the entrance with hook and line.

HT (20 Feb. 1864) Another Indian Raid--On Wednesday last, citizens of Arcata and vicinity were thrown into a state of excitement on account of an attack made upon the residence of Capt. J.M. Dyer, situated a short distance from Arcata, by a band of Indians numbering forty or fifty. Capt. Dyer was in town at the time; his wife and Jerry -----, a man in the Captain's employ, were the only persons on the premises when the attack was made. It occurred about 11 a.m. Jerry was plowing in a field just south of the house when he was fired upon from an ambush not more than eight steps distant, the ball taking effect in the right arm, about midway between the shoulder and elbow. He immediately turned with the intention of reaching the house where Mrs. Dyer was, but seeing that the Indians had cut him off in that direction, he had no other chance to save himself than by a run toward the bay. Four of the red devils followed, sending as many shots after him, none of which took effect. Having on heavy shoes, clogged with mud from the plowed ground, the Indians gained on him and he saw that they must soon overtake him unless he could divest himself of them. This he could not do without cutting the strings by which they were tied. He therefore stopped suddenly and turned toward his pursuers at the same time drawing a sheath knife which he had upon his person. Taking this as a movement to draw a pistol on them, they stopped also and retreated a few steps; taking advantage of the moment thus afforded him, Jerry cut the strings, kicked the shoes from his feet and resumed his flight. The Indians seeing their mistake and finding they could not overtake him, abandoned the pursuit.

Mrs. Dyer, discovering the Indians when the shot was fired and seeing their number and position were such as to preclude the possibility either of Jerry's reaching the house or of her defending herself, she also sought safety in flight. Before leaving she bethought herself of the guns in the house, two in number, and to keep them from the Indians put one of them in a feather bed and with the other she fled. The rascals then proceeded to pillage and destroy. They took every article of clothing in the house, emptied the feather beds and took the ticking; in this operation they found the secreted gun; opened the grain sacks and scattered the contents upon the ground, in fact, appropriated everything of any value and afterwards set fire to the house.

As soon as the alarm was given to the citizens in town, they hastened to render what assistance they could at the scene of devastation and were so fortunate as to reach them in season to save the buildings.

A messenger was also dispatched to Fort Humboldt for assistance which was responded to by Col. Black with a promptitude deserving of the highest praise. Although this call was made upon him within a few hours after he landed from the steamer, the order was forthwith issued, transportation furnished and a detachment of sixty-five men of Co. C, 6th Regiment, Capt. Buckley, accompanied by Maj. Wright, landed at an early hour in the evening at Arcata.

We understand that this detachment, guided by citizens of Arcata, are now in pursuit of the Indians and we sincerely wish them success.

HT (5 March 1864) Destruction of Stock by the Indians--Large numbers of stock, consisting of cattle, horses and mules, have been slaughtered of late, we are informed, by the Indians on and in the immediate vicinity of Kneeland's Prairie. These depredations are supposed to have been committed by the same band that made the raid upon Captain Dyer's a few days since.

HT (30 April 1864) Marriage in San Francisco, April 20th, William Carson of Humboldt and Sarah Wilson of New Brunswick.

HT (between April and Sept. 1864) Road to Arcata--We see from notices posted about town that proposals are called for to build a section of the road laid out between Eureka and Arcata. This is an important matter. Everyone knows the convenience of a good road around the bay. Everyone is familiar with the route and the character of the road at present traveled; we refer more particularly to that portion between the Ryan and the Big sloughs and must have long since become satisfied that the route of the proposed road is laid is by far the most eligible. We hope this call for proposals will receive the attention which the importance of the work as a public convenience and improvement demands.

HT (10 Sept. 1864) Our Roads--We noticed in riding over the road between this town and Arcata that there are several places in it which require to be immediately repaired. Between the Big Slough and Arcata several of these occur where there is great danger of a horse breaking his leg or being otherwise injured if they are suffered to remain in the condition they now are. These are in passing over some of the bridges that cross some of the small streams along the way....

HT (10 Sept. 1864) Salmon--This delicious fish may now be caught in our Bay. Numbers have already been taken with hook and line. We are under obligations to Capt. Josh Van Zant for a fine large one left at our office a few days since.

HT (25 Nov. 1865) Clear the Road--We learn that the road between this place and Arcata is blocked up in several places by fallen trees....

HT (21 July 1866) To Arcata--Messrs. Williams & McConnaha, the enterprising proprietors of the Livery, Feed & Sale Stable on Second St., are now running their stages twice a week, Sundays and Thursdays, between Eureka and Arcata.

HT (26 Jan. 1867) On Saturday last, the mail carrier between Arcata and this place in attempting to cross Jacoby's Creek was swept down the stream by the current and barely escaped with his life. He lost his mule and the mail.

HT (1 June 1867) We are requested to state that the road between Eureka and Arcata will be from this day till next Tuesday in a condition not fit to travel. The removal of a bridge from the old to the new road is the cause.

AU (11 May 1901) Isaac Minor's Del Norte Enterprise--....Mr. Minor first engaged in the redwood business 33 years ago as a part owner in the Washington Claim, upon part of which Bayside now stands.

HT (15 May 1869) The Arcata Road--Complaints long and loud are being made in regard to the condition of the road between this place and Arcata....Much of the Arcata road is nothing more than a tolerable summer road, the moment the rains come they are flooded and a very little travel suffices to cut them up and render them impassable....

HT (4 June 1870) We were over a portion of the county road between this place and Arcata a few days since and were pleased to see that overseer McLachlia of this district has made some good and substantial improvements on the same.

HT (20 Aug. 1870) In and About Arcata--Two lines of daily stages are running between Arcata and Eureka. That carrying the U.S. mail is owned by Mr. George Corners [Conners?], an obliging and attentive gentleman. The other line is owned by Messrs. Murphy and Simpson, proprietors of the Arcata Livery Stable....

HT (13 May 1871) Farm For Sale--The undersigned offers for sale his farm lying two miles south of Arcata on the county road leading from Eureka to Arcata. Said farm contains 364 acres composed of part of hill, bottom and marsh land. The improvements consist of a dwelling house, barn, smoke-house, sheds, chicken house, orchard, etc. The place is divided into six different fields or pastures with running water in each the year round. The growing crops, consisting of barley, oats, peas and potatoes, together with all kinds of farming implements will be sold with the place. Teams, cows, horses, mules, hogs and other stock, young and old, at the option of the purchaser. The place is well adapted for dairying, raising hogs or poultry.

Also, unimproved land on Jacoby Creek lying on the county road in quantities to suit, from five to fifty acres. Terms easy. For further particulars apply to W.C. Martin, Eureka or to the undersigned in Arcata. Austin Wiley.

WCS (7 June 1871) As the season of good roads draws near, the route from Eureka to Arcata around the Bay becomes an attractive one. At present, with the exception of a few rough places between Cal Long's and Jacoby Creek, the road is in splendid traveling condition.

WCS (27 March 1872) Arcata Stage--The road around the Bay is again open to travel and that careful and accommodating driver Mr. A.P. Murphy made the initial trip with his 4-horse passenger wagon on Wednesday. Murphy desires us to say that he will from this time forth make daily trips and solicits the patronage of the traveling public.

WCS (3 April 1872) District Court--The following disposition of cases has been made in District Court since our last issue. Foltz and Spring vs. Geo. M. Dyer--action to quiet title. Judgment in accordance with prayer of plaintiffs and all persons claiming title to the premises described in plaintiffs' complaint by, through, or under defendant are perpetually estopped from settling up any claim thereto. The similar case of Wiley & Minor vs. Dyer was similarly disposed of.

WCS (24 April 1872) Eureka and Arcata Stage--We call attention to the summer arrangement of Croghan and Murphy, proprietors of the above line, who are too well known to require special mention from us. Murphy desires us to assure the public that punctuality and a disposition to accommodate will be his motto. Their stages will connect with the Trinidad line on three days of the week, whence passengers can take saddle animals for Crescent City.

WCS (26 June 1872) John Thomas was badly hurt in the logging claim of George Carson....A chopper named Grant was stuck by a falling limb in the logging claim of James Gannon near Arcata.

WCS (30 Oct. 1872) On the night of the 20th Robert Wilson and James H. Percy left this place for Arcata driving a double team. While passing through a dark place in the timber this side of "Washington Claim" the wheels of the buggy struck a fallen tree lying parallel with the road, throwing Percy out upon the tongue and frightening the team into a runaway. [Percy died; Wilson survived]

WCS (16 April 1873) Fine Sport--The spring run of salmon trout is just now affording fine sport for knights of the rod and line in the small streams which put into the Bay. We have seen splendid specimens of this fish which were taken in Freshwater and Elk River. They are the most palatable fish which the year affords in this section.

WCS (2 July 1873) Birth of a son to A. Foltz near Arcata.

WCS (24 Dec. 1873) Dolbeer & Carson have nearly completed an important extension and enlargement of their Bay Mill wharf.

SBF 23:67 WCS (1 Jan. 1875) Seed Potatoes For Sale. The undersigned offers for sale the following varieties of choice seed potatoes, crop of 1874 and all raised on new ground. Earl Rose, Mischance, Early Blue, Kidney, Strawberry and Long John. Will be sold in quantities to suit. Apply to the undersigned at his farm on the Arcata Road. D.F. Dyer, Jacoby Creek.

WCS (17 Feb. 1875) Iron Logging Road--We learn from reliable authority that Dolbeer & Carson will build a railroad with iron tracks from their timber possessions on Jacoby creek to the old dump of the "Washington" claim near the Eureka and Arcata road. The road will be a mile and a half long. The firm named owns somewhere in the neighborhood of a thousand acres of timber in the Jacoby creek section.

WCS (24 Feb. 1875) Big Contract--A bargain was consummated on Monday between Geo and Skiff Carson and Russ Pickard & Co. by which the first named parties agree to furnish the mill with $100,000 worth of logs during the next two years.

WCS (21 April 1875) Birth at Jacoby Creek, March 29th, to wife of Geo. Conners, a son.

Deeds P:94 (14 May 1875) [Foltz Place] O.H. Spring to Amos Foltz, $1800, commencing at point 2.77 chains (182.82 feet) W from quarter section post on N line Sec. 10, 5N1E; thence E 22.77 chains (1502.82 feet); thence S to S bank Jacoby Creek; thence W following meander to point 2.77 chains (182.81 feet) W of quarter Sec. line; thence N to beginning, 59 acres.

WCS (5 May 1875) The work of grading Carson's new railroad into the Washington claim has commenced and Skiff and Geo. Carson are grading a railroad from Brainard's Point into their timber possessions.

DHT (1 June 1875) A large fire was burning in the woods yesterday in the vicinity of Jacoby Creek. The strong wind which prevailed no doubt helped it along. An immense volume of smoke rose from the locality.

DHT (9 June 1875) Mr. McDaniel, mail carrier and driver of the stage between Eureka and Arcata, informs us that while on his way to Arcata on Monday afternoon and near Jacoby Creek bridge, the breast strap of one of the wheel horses broke which caused the horse to jump forward and while endeavoring to control him, the horse fell, the fore wheel of the stage running over one of his legs, completely crushing it from the knee to the hoof. Mr. McDaniels found it necessary to dispatch the animal at once to put him out of his misery.

HT (3 July 1875) Petition received and approved by Board Supervisors for organization of Jacoby Creek School District

WCS (28 July 1875) Teacher Wanted--An election for Trustees of Jacoby Creek School District was held on the 7th of July resulting in the choice of David F. Dyer, Geo. Connors and Bernard Doyle. A good teacher is wanted to whom good wages will be given, female preferred. The attendance will average about 25 pupils. Apply at this office or to D.F. Dyer.

WCS (25 Aug. 1875) [School fund apportionment; most except for large schools got $107.17; Jacoby Creek, $107.17. Forty schools in County.]

WCS (8 Sept. 1875) Last Saturday morning Skiff Carson sustained serious injuries in his logging claim on the Arcata road. While helping to dump a log from the track into the slough, a bar which was being used struck Mr. Carson in the chest, knocking him down and inflicting severe injuries but it is hoped none of a serious nature.

WCS (13 Oct. 1875) Last Friday, John Colby moved a redwood tree which scaled 50,000 feet from the claim of George and Skiff Carson on the Arcata road to the shore of the Bay.

WCS (3 Nov. 1875) Work has ceased in many of the logging camps about the Bay, as a result of the heavy rains. But we are told that work still progresses in the claim of George and Skiff Carson on the Arcata road and they will get several million more feet to tide water the present season. This is one of the benefits of having a substantial railroad from the Bay to the scene of their present operations.

WCS (8 Dec. 1875) Tomorrow evening the electors of Jacoby Creek School District will vote on the proposition to levy a special tax for the purpose of building a school house. There is no doubt but the proposition will carry, as the people of that section have great faith in the moral results which follow the building of school houses and encouragement of the public school system.

WCS (15 Dec. 1875) At the election held in Jacoby Creek School District on the 9th instant to vote whether or not a special tax of $500 should be levied for the purpose of building a school house, the vote was unanimously in favor of the proposition.

WCS (22 Dec. 1875) The Trustees of Jacoby Creek School District ask for proposals for building a School House in accordance with specifications to be seen at the office of John A. Watson in this city and at the store of Harpst, Spring & Co. Arcata. Proposals to be addressed to D.F. Dyer, Jacoby Creek.

WCS (22 March 1876) The new school building in Jacoby Creek District is about completed. The Trustees selected a very pleasant location for the building.

WCS (29 March 1876) [Jacoby Creek flourishing little community of farmers and lumbermen; new school district at Jacoby Creek organized last year; new school cost $550. Erected by Anger and Marlow of Arcata; Geo. Connors clerk of the Board of Trustees; Miss A.F. Tanson of Arcata will teach summer school.]

WCS (19 April 1876) Jacoby Creek school district--Commencing at SW cor SE qt sec 33, 6N1E; N on line in center of section to NW cor NE qt sec 33; E on section line 1 1/2 mile to NE cor sec 34; S 1 mile to SE cor sec 34; E on township line to Mad river; up said river to S boundary line of Union Township; W on line to margin of Humboldt Bay; thence following margin in Nly direction to a point where the S boundary line of 6N1E intersects the Bay; thence E to place of beginning.

WCS (19 April 1876) On Saturday last the survey of a site for a new steam saw mill was made at Clark's Point in the southern portion of the city, Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. is to be the...title of the new lumber-making association which consists of John Harpst and Jas. Gannon of Arcata and D.J. Flanigan and T. Brosnan of Eureka. Work on the mill structure will be commenced immediately.

WCS (3 May 1876) A Thousand--The logging firm of George and Skiffington Carson are making sad havoc in their claim--on the eastern shore of the upper Bay. We are authorized to state that since the commencement of the present year, one thousand redwood trees have been cut on their claim--that number are now on the ground as evidence of the last four months' work....The Carson firm have already delivered 2,000 cords of shingle bolts this season and we are told that they can easily furnish 100,000 cords without interfering with their logging operations.

WCS (10 May 1876) A Thrifty Locality--A friend who has been up to Jacoby Creek fishing furnishes us with the following items of news from that neighborhood.

John Smith has bought the Campbell place of 60 acres, paying $4000. The Henry Brothers are building a public house at the Washington claim railroad crossing, a short distance this side of Jacoby Creek. The place now boasts a school house and Matheson Brothers have started a blacksmith shop. D.F. Dyer, Chris Brown and Geo. Connors will build new residences this summer. Forty men are now employed in the Washington logging claim of Dolbeer & Carson. Capt. Jas. Franzen has leased the Jacoby Creek warehouse and slough from Chris Brown. F. Getchell has purchased 30 acres of land of Dolbeer & Carson and will built on it this summer. Amos Foltz is improving the old Dyer place. Andrain & Carlson have bought the Spring farm and will build a new residence this summer. For the sake of brevity and distinctiveness we suggest to the people of Jacoby Creek the propriety of adopting the name of "Carson" for their prosperous little hamlet.

WCS (17 May 1876) Arcata Route--Two daily six-horse coaches between Arcata and Eureka makes a gay showing for that route. Lew McDaniel made his first trip with the new coach on Monday and Croghan and Cave's new coach came sailing down 2d street yesterday running for the first time.

WCS (7 June 1876) Jacoby Creek is one of the attractive points on the Arcata road now. It has every appearance of prosperity. The new hotel at the railroad crossing is completed. The car wheels and axles lately received from the East for Dolbeer & Carson's logging claim are on the ground and the cars are being made ready for use as rapidly as possible.

WCS (26 July 1876) On Friday of last week while Andrew Henry was working a raft of logs in the neighborhood of Brainard's Point, a capstan bar slipped from its socket and the next one striking the back of his head knocked him senseless.

WCS (26 July 1876) On Tuesday afternoon of last week, Mr. Sam McFarland was seriously injured by being thrown from a car on the railroad of the Carson claim, Jacoby Creek. The accident was the result of a collision between the first and second landings and Mr. McFarland was thrown from the car with such force as to render him senseless to which fact alone his escape with life is attributed. The cars passed over him as he lay between the rails, the under gear striking his head resulted in concussion of the brain. Dr. Gross was summoned to attend him and latest reports give fair hope of his speedy recovery.

WCS (2 Aug. 1876) Birth at Jacoby Creek July 26th to Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, a daughter.

WCS (9 Aug. 1876) School Census, Humboldt County. 42 schools; Jacoby Creek, 55 pupils. Total for county 3,266.

WCS (18 Oct. 1876) And now the word comes to us that the Jacoby Creek people have simmered down to liking "Bayside" better than "Waterside" as a name for their prosperous hamlet and we are instructed to address the Signal accordingly. Good taste is one of the weaknesses of the Jaco---"Bayside" people.

WHT (21 Oct. 1876) A great deal of building is going on along the road between eureka and Arcata and at the present rate of improvements, Carsonville will soon become quite a town.

WCS (21 Feb. 1877) The co-partnership lately existing between George and Skiffington Carson has been dissolved by mutual consent.

WCS (28 Feb. 1877) Bayside--A resident of the little town which has grown up at Jacoby Creek writes us that the public school will open next Monday with Mr. E.B. Greenough as teacher. On Thursday night a party for the benefit of the Bayside school will be held at the school house and all friends of the cause are invited to participate. A Division of Sons of Temperance is soon to be started with 22 charter members. Some sickness prevails in the lower part of town.

WCS (14 March 1877) We are informed that no work will be done in the Washington logging claim of Dolbeer & Carson, Jacoby Creek, this summer and that the iron track railroad will not be used. The above firm have some 6,000,000 feet of logs already cut which will be a sufficient supply for the Bay Mill during the year.

WCS (14 March 1877) With all the talk about dull times, we cannot hear that any other than the Washington claim will remain unworked between this place and Arcata during the summer. John Brown will log in one of the Carson claims and Long & Graham are getting ready to work just beyond Freshwater.

WCS (28 March 1877) Editor Signal--On Friday evening last 37 members of Morning Star Division, No. 106, S of T went to Jacoby Creek (Bayside) and organized Bayside Division Sons of Temperance with 22 charter members and a number of others to come in as such on next Friday evening. We had a pleasant meeting, and I have reason to believe that the new Division will be a thorn in the sides of the champions of King Alcohol....

Bayside is some 2 1/2 miles from Arcata on the Eureka road. The night was dark and after the Arcata party had gone to Bayside, some person placed a log about 50 feet long and a foot and a half through across the road near Gannon's railroad track....it took six men to move the log before teams could pass.

WCS (18 April 1877) Birth at Bayside, April 9, to Mr. and Mrs. John Matheson, a son.

WCS (11 July 1877) Birth at Bayside, July 3d, Mr. and Mrs. F. Getchell, a son; July 5th, to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McGuire, a son.

WCS (29 Aug. 1877) School Fund Apportionment, 43 schools; Jacoby Creek $83.36 from State; $90.00 from County.

WCS (10 Oct. 1877) Entertainment by Sunday School teachers and pupils at Jacoby Creek [participants] A. Foltz, M. Albee, Miss Addie Carson. W. Webster, Misses Alice and Ida Morton, E.D. Greenough, Mrs. John Mitchell, Maria Carson, Master Thos. Carson, Chas. Steen, H.A. Carlson, J. Andrain, Miss E. McCullough, Anna McGeorge, Emaline Mitchell, Annie Carson, Bertha Carson, W. Henry.

WCS (23 Jan. 1878) The Gale at Bayside--We learn that the gale amounted almost to a hurricane in the Jacoby Creek section night before last. Hundreds of mammoth redwood trees were uprooted by it and there was no cessation of the heavy music thus occasioned during the night. It demolished the warehouse 44x20 feet of D.F. Dyer, located at the mouth of the creek. Mr. John Wood was sleeping in the building at the time and awoke to find himself in the open air and drenched with the rain. The roof and one side of the warehouse had blown over him without doing any personal injury. Dyer's granary, containing 6 or 8 tons of produce, was moved 6 inches from the foundation. At present his warehouse occupies about 200 yards of the earth's surface. Mr. Chas. McGuire's wagon sled was also uprooted.

WCS (23 Jan. 1878) Death at Jacoby Creek, Jan. 17th, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGuire, nine years old.

WCS (30 Jan. 1878) Skiffington Carson filed for bankruptcy.

WCS (6 Feb. 1878) Birth at Bayside, Jan. 22, to Mr. and Mrs. Amos Foltz, a daughter.

WCS (20 March 1878) Arcata Jottings--Bayside Lodge, S. of T., which was organized one year ago, celebrated its first anniversary on Saturday last by having a splendid dinner in the School House at that place in the afternoon and a dance and big supper in the evening.

Democratic Standard (23 March 1878) Arcata—Bayside Division of Sons of Temperance celebrated the anniversary of their Division last Saturday, commencing with a sumptuous dinner at noon and then engaging in the merry dance and other amusements till midnight.

WCS (10 April 1878) M.G.W. Writing from Bayside, April 8th, says: Editor Signal--Yesterday (Sunday) the Bayside Sunday School was reorganized. The officers chosen were Superintendent Geo. W. Roger; Secretary and Librarian John Andrian. A full corps of teachers was enlisted. The spirit of the community is manifested by the fact that about 40 persons were present and that the school was continued through the rainy season. Steps were taken to secure the purchase of a good organ for the school. Beginning with next Sunday, Rev. Mr. Taylor of Arcata will give us a sermon on alternate Sundays.

SBF 23:154 (WHT 14 April 1887) Petition for road from Matheson's land running along south side of Jacoby Creek easterly to west line of McCutcheon's land [Graham Road]

WHT (20 April 1878) Leg Crushed--A serious accident occurred about five o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Washington claim, Jacoby Creek, to Mr. Fred Getchell, resulting in a severe and probably fatal injury while felling a tree. It appears that having cut down the tree, which in falling struck its top against a log, causing the butt to spring back over the stump catching Mr. Getchell on the thigh just below the hip. Strange to say no bone was broken, but it crushed the flesh to jelly. Dr. Gross was immediately summoned, who on his arrival, found the leg much swollen and intensely painful to the unfortunate sufferer. A careful examination disclosed the fact that the blood from the arteries had been forced all through the flesh, which had already commenced mortifying and consequently no recourse but amputation remained, which was duly performed at once. From the nature of the injuries, it is doubtful if he can survive. He has a wife and two small children depending upon him for support. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity; also a member of Humboldt Lodge No. 77, I.O.O.F., of this city--Star.

WCS (25 Sept. 1878) School District Clerks, 48 schools, Jacoby Creek, D.F. Dyer, Clerk.

WCS (5 Feb. 1879) Married at Bayside, Jan. 30th by Rev. D.W. Chilson, Mr. David F. Dyer and Mrs. Rebecca Tobin, both of Bayside.

WCS (23 July 1879) The new mill of Dolbeer & Carson in this city stated up in earnest last Monday

WCS (13 Aug. 1879) Wm. Donald had his foot badly crushed by a rolling log in the "Washington" claim near Bayside.

AL (16 Aug. 1879) A resident of Bayside tells us that Mr. A. Foltz has a five acre field of wheat near that place that stands over eight feet in height. How is that for high?

WCS (20 Aug. 1879) Our correspondent at Bayview [sic] on the Arcata road writes that mosquitoes are so plentiful that the residents don't know it is daylight until Fred Stokes rattles Uncle Sam's Mail over the bridge at 9 "o'clock in the morning." Dyer has resigned the position of Post Master in consequence.

DHT (12 March 1880) RE: mail...The mail carrier this morning brought from Eureka and distributed to different parties along the road between Eureka and Arcata thirty-two letters and this is about a fair average during the winter months. During the summer, when the logging claims are running, the daily average would amount of two or three times the number.

There are printed in Eureka two daily and three weekly papers. The citizens along the road depend on the mail rider to bring their papers, daily to their doors. There is on the road some fourteen boxes used by the citizens for forwarding and receiving their mail. Some of these boxes are for single families and some for several families who live nearby, the mail rider taking from and delivering any letters or packages he may find there and depositing any letters or parcels he may have to deliver....

During the summer months, there are several hundred men at work on claims between Eureka and Arcata....

DHT (27 March 1880) We understand that the residence of Wm. L. Carson on the Washington Claim at the head of the Bay with its entire content was burned about eleven o'clock last Monday night. Not an article either of clothing or furniture was saved. Mr. Carson had occasion to leave the house to attend to some matters at the dam some distance therefrom and left a lamp burning. He was gone longer than expected and thinks the lamp exploded, causing the fire.

DHT (15 July 1880) To Sportsmen--We venture the assertion, which is substantiated by every person of sporting proclivities who has been here, that there is not a county in this State which possesses more attractions to the sportsman than Humboldt....Hundreds of streams, many of them emptying into the bay afford as good fishing grounds as one could wish for, where either the brook or salmon trout are numerous....

AL (9 Oct. 1880) Born at Jacoby Creek, Oct. 3d, to the wife of D.F. Dyer, a son.

WHT (22 Jan. 1881) The Storm--The Jacoby bridge was lowered four feet on the east end by the current washing away the bank and at last accounts, J. Sowash, the overseer, was hard at work putting forth strenuous efforts to prevent the structure from being carried off bodily.

WHT (5 Feb. 1881) Wm. Carter of Jacoby Creek had his hand severely injured by the explosion of a shotgun cartridge which he was loading.

WHT (19 Feb. 1881) Wm. Carter of Bayside, who had his hand injured two weeks ago by the accidental discharge of a gun cartridge, has been attacked with lockjaw in consequences and is dangerously ill.

WHT (26 Feb. 1881) Dead--William Carter, of whom we spoke as being dangerously ill last week, died on Tuesday evening. He met with an accident to his hand some three weeks ago by the explosion of a gun cartridge. About a week afterwards he exposed himself to the weather, got wet, and allowed his clothes to dry on him. From this carelessness, he contracted a cold which produced lock jaw that proved fatal. Mr. Carter was a steady and industrious man and owned a small place on Jacoby Creek. On Monday afternoon he sent for Mr. Spring of this place and told him about his business, made his will and appointed Mr. Spring his executor. He came here from Kentucky and had, when he left home, three sisters and four brothers living, but has not heard from them for a number of years. He left no family but a host of friends--Leader.

WHT (5 March 1881)Gannon's logging claim on Jacoby creek will start up next week and the men who will thus be taken from town will leave our streets almost deserted.

WHT (30 April 1881) A horse belonging to Frank Fulton, who has been hauling shakes on Gannon's claim, was killed yesterday.

WHT (30 April 1881) Supervisor Dinsmore is lying in a dangerous condition at Jacoby creek from the injuries received from a fall a few days since. (7 May 1881) [improving and will return to home on Eel river]

WHT (23 July 1881) [reference to "Gannon's logging camp near Arcata"]

WHT (20 Aug. 1881) Railroad on Jacoby Creek--The immense timber comprised in the Jacoby Creek country is about to be opened up more extensively than ever before. A railroad is to be constructed from tide water up into the dense forests that cover the slopes and fringe the hill tops. The logs brought down by the railroad will be rafted to the mill of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co., to be sawed. It is said that this mill firm and Harpst, Spring & Co. of Arcata have an interest in the road. The Arcata firm owns a large tract of timber in the Jacoby Creek country. A short railroad has been built on the stream by Dolbeer and Carson, but it does not reach back into the large body of timber.

WHT (27 Aug. 1881) A Brace of Accidents--John Mitchell was run over twice on Saturday at Jacoby Creek and sustained two fractures of one of his legs. His team, attached to a lumber wagon, ran away and knocked him down. The wagon ran over one leg and broke it. His disabled condition prevented him getting out of the way and the team turned and ran over the same leg again, making a second fracture.

WHT (10 Sept. 1881) Four redwood logs containing by actual measurement 26,902 feet of lumber were hauled by a ten-ox team on Gannon's logging claim last week, a distance of three-quarters of a mile. It is claimed that this is the largest load ever hauled in the county by ten oxen. James McCready was the teamster.

WHT (17 Sept. 1881) A load of logs rolled upon an ox team belonging to James Gannon on Thursday, killed one ox and injured several others.

WHT (24 Sept. 1881) Obit from Leader--James Beith, Sr., breathed his last at the residence of his son near Arcata on the 9th of September, Admission Day, after a brief illness of seven days, aged 88 years and four months. He was born in the village of Largs, Ayrshire, Scotland on the 19th of May 1793....On the 4th of November 1853, he arrived in this county....In his youth he excelled in all the athletic sports and up to a few years ago was fond of a gun and rod. He leaves behind one son, two daughters, ten grandchildren, and one great grandchild....

WHT (12 Nov. 1881) Gravel from Jacoby creek has been placed on G street between 2nd and 3rd streets [Eureka]. This is the first occasion of the use of gravel for paving the public streets.

WHT (26 Nov. 1881) A raft of logs owned by James Gannon was towed down the bay yesterday, the destination being Flanigan's mill. Near Jones' mill on the Island, the raft struck a pile in Jones' boom and the fastenings were broken. The logs floated down the bay with the ebb tide. The major part was recovered by the steamer.

WHT (10 Dec. 1881) Work on the Jacoby creek railroad is going ahead and the road will be completed in '82. It will have an iron track and be operated in a like manner to the road leading to Carson's claim on Jacoby creek. It is expected that 8,000,000 feet of logs will come over the road next year.

SBF 23:107 (10 Dec. 1881) New shingle mill to be built on Murdock claim, John Harpst, James Gannon and J. Sowash.

WHT (24 Dec. 1881) The New Jacoby Creek Railroad--The route of the logging railroad to be built on Jacoby Creek by Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. has been surveyed. The road will be about a mile and a half in length and will be extended as the timber is cut. Iron T rails will be used. The line of the railroad crosses the Arcata Road very near the Jacoby Creek school house, running through Mitchell's land. Work will begin as soon as possible.

WHT (24 Dec. 1881) The Log Supply....Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. have but a few logs on hand. This firm is about to build a railroad on Jacoby Creek to bring logs from the woods to tide water.

WHT (31 Dec. 1881) At one o'clock yesterday morning, when the tide was at its highest point, a heavy squall of wind swept across the bay. A boom below Flanigan and Brosnan's mill, enclosing 286 logs belonging to Russ & Co., was broken and 35 or 40 logs floated away. Some drifted out to sea and others were left along the beach in the bay.

WHT (7 Jan. 1882) Shingle and Stave Mill--A mill will be built by Dolbeer & Carson near the Washington Claim on the Arcata Road for the manufacture of shingles and staves.

WHT (14 Jan. 1882) Repairing the streets in Eureka--Very good gravel can be secured at Freshwater or Jacoby creek but heavy expense would be incurred for hauling the material to this city.

WHT (14 Jan. 1882) Flanigan, Brosnan & Co.'s mill has been shut down for the winter. It is probable that work will not be resumed at this mill before June. The quota of lumber allowed by the Redwood Manufacturers Association to be sawed in this mill, has been reached and work has been suspended in consequence.

WHT (8 April 1882) Dolbeer & Carson have three large orders ahead for railroad ties and lumber for Altata, Mexico.

WHT (15 April 1882) Arrangements are about completed and in a very short time all the logging camps around the bay will be in full operation. Crews of men are leaving the city every day. A large amount of work will be done in the woods this summer.

WHT (29 April 1882) Some months ago mention was made of the fact that Russ & Co. and Dolbeer & Carson were making arrangements to build a steamer for towing purposes on the bay, but more particularly for handling rafts coming out of Elk river and the sloughs in the upper bay. The boats in use on the bay did not have power sufficient to do the work required.

WHT (6 May 1882) The locomotive for Flanigan, Brosnan & Co.'s railroad arrived on the schooner Ida McKay yesterday. It was built at the Globe Iron Works, San Francisco and weighs sixty tons. It has six-inch cylinders. It has also a gear attachment that is to be used for loading and general purposes and is claimed to be an improvement. A man from the Globe Works will arrive here shortly to set the locomotive up and get it in running order.

WHT (13 May 1882) Frank Thomas at work on the Jacoby Creek railroad met with an accident yesterday. He was handling a crowbar or pry when the instrument flew back, striking him on the cheek bone and injuring the eye.

WHT (13 May 1882) The dredger completed the work of deepening the channel at Arcata Wharf and the scows were brought down to Jones' Wharf. The dredger was towed up Jacoby Creek toward evening where she will be employed for two or three days in filling a bulkhead for Flanigan & Brosnan....

WHT (20 May 1882) John Dolbeer states that he has purchased the steamer on the Sound for towing purposes on this bay, paying therefore the sum of $5,200.

WHT (3 June 1882) Sandy Garcelon, having purchased an interest in the Arcata stage line, informs us that in addition to the regular daily trips, he will run an afternoon stage from this city to Arcata every Saturday for the accommodation of people along the road.

WHT (3 June 1882) A messenger from the Washington Claim yesterday afternoon brought the information that Mel Albee had been badly injured at that place. Dr. Gross went out to attend the wounded man, but no particulars were obtained. Later: The injury is not serious. It occurred by a "grab" giving way and striking Mr. Albee a severe blow on the right shoulder, which will be temporarily crippling and cutting him across the mouth and knocking out a tooth or two.

WHT (17 June 1882) The steamer Onetta, owned by Russ & Co. and Dolbeer & Carson, put in an appearance yesterday morning....Built at Pioneer City, Oregon in 1872 and is 95 tons burden....The Onetta is intended to do towing on Humboldt Bay and principally in the interest of the two companies who own her. She is staunch and powerful and will be able to tow a raft or load at any stage of the tide with ease.

WHT (1 July 1882) The barkentine Catherine Sutter is at Flanigan's where she will load lumber, probably for the islands....

WHT (8 July 1882) Woodcock and Thomas who hold a logging contract at Jacoby creek have sold out to Frank Graham. There are two teams now at work there and a third is to be put in at once.

WHT (9 Sept. 1882) Six hundred dollars wanted to borrow on 200 acres of redwood timber land on Jacoby Creek.

WHT (2 Dec. 1882) The road overseer, if he had a mind to, could make improvements on his portion of the road around the bay to Arcata. In some places the road is in a miserable condition and heavy loaded teams get stalled. This should be remembered. There is too much travel over the road to permit of such a state of affairs.

WT-T (20 Jan. 1883) Work has been resumed at Gannon's camp on Jacoby Creek. It is reported that an extra force of men will be put to work.

DTT (8 Feb. 1883) Active operations will soon commence in the lumbering claims on Jacoby Creek. A good working force is already employed in Carson's and Gannon's claims, but the number of workmen will be doubled a month or two hence.

Mill sheltered from north wind.]

WT-T (10 May 1884) Born at Freshwater May 5th to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Getchell, a son.

DHS (12 May 1884) Flanigan, Brosnan & Co.'s Mill--We took a look at the mill of this firm last week and gathered a few items of interest relative to their operations at the mill and in the woods. Union Mill. This mill is known as the "Union Mill," location about one and a half miles from the center of the city of Eureka on nine acres of land bought from Dr. Jonathan Clark, whose estate still owns a large body of salt tide marsh land immediately surrounding it. The land of this company extends to the main channel and their wharf is at the narrowest point of said channel, which fact gives them ample deep water at all times, so that vessels can come along side and load. The capacity of the mill is 45 M feet per day, with a shingle mill that turns out 25,000 shingles every twenty-four hours. There are employed in and about the mill 42 men; these men are boarded at the company boarding house, and are paid so much and boarded. The company have a boom at the mill which will hold 2,500,000 feet of logs. The road from the mill across the marsh to the main county road has been made by hauling the saw dust and spreading it. The waste lumber is sawed into firewood and sold for fifty cents a cord, 1,400 cords of this wood was sold last year. The schooner Ida Schnauer was just completing her cargo while we were at the mill. She goes to the Sandwich Islands. The Eva and Mary Buhne loaded last week for San Francisco from this mill.

Logging Camps. In the Jacoby Creek forest, this firm have a large force of men employed. The camps are under charge of Mr. James Gannon, the pioneer logger. Mr. Morrison is overseer at the upper camp, on the bank of the creek, and Mr. Gannon is now preparing to recommence work in a former camp to the left of the railroad and about half a mile distant. A side track is being laid to this camp, and the main road extended across the creek. Some splendid timber is being moved, and the land generally is very favorable for logging purposes. Steam donkeys do the ugly work, and Andy Orr and John Thomas handle the two, ten-ox teams. The main line of railroad is well ballasted and the trestles are substantially constructed. Some 40 odd men are employed at the upper camp, and Johnny Andrain and his sisters always make the visits of sightseers pleasant. The round house and landing headquarters are located midway between the county road and the landing. Rafting at the latter point is done by Hubert Woodcock and David McAdam. The boom at this point has a capacity of 2,500,000 feet. After the logs are rafted they are towed to the mill by a steamer.

Jacoby Creek Marble. On the lands controlled by this company on Jacoby Creek are a variety of building stones. There are two qualities of sandstone, one very hard and one soft, both well defined ledges. The stone can be quarried without expensive stripping, the outer surface being free from earthy matter. This stone is within a few hundred yards of the railroad now used for logging by the company. In the same vicinity is a good quality of marble. A block of this marble can be seen at our office. It has been polished and shows the stone to be suitable for furniture and many other uses. It will not be long before these valuable deposits will be profitably utilized. We have been promised blocks of the different varieties of building stones to be sent to commissioner Hanks for exhibition in the State collection.

WT-T (12 July 1884) Born at Bayside July 4th to Mr. and Mrs. Angus McDonald, a son.

WT-T (26 July 1884) There is on exhibition at the County Clerk's office a sample of sandstone or an inferior granite, as some choose to call it, taken from the almost inexhaustible ledge on Jacoby Creek, property of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. The rock is easy worked and is better even than granite for building purposes.

WT-T (9 Aug. 1884) Accident in the Woods.

WT-T (16 Aug. 1884) Jacoby Creek Water Company--For a year or more there has been considerable talk about bringing water through pipes into this city, from some mountain stream and establishing for this purpose a regular system of water works. Like a good many other propositions it has dragged along until it was thought the scheme would end as it began--in talk. One great difficulty was in finding a suitable stream, but that obstacle was overcome and a few weeks ago several of our business men took the matter in hand and formed a corporation under the name and style of the Jacoby Creek Water Company. They have filed their articles of incorporation and will soon begin operations to carry out the proposed arrangements.

The purposes, as stated, for which the company is formed are to introduce into and through the City of Eureka, pure, fresh water for the purpose of furnishing it to said city and its inhabitants for all the uses to which water can be applied and for said purposes to condemn, purchase and acquire all the water flowing through and in the stream, known as Jacoby Creek and its tributaries and all such land as may be convenient and necessary to so supply said City of Eureka as to divert all the waters of said stream and its tributaries and to conduct and lead the same into and through said city. The principal place of business is Eureka and the term for which the corporation is to exist is fifty years. The number of directors is five and the names are William Carson, John Harpst, O.H. Spring, T.F. Brosnan and D.J. Flanigan. Capital stock is $350,000....Jacoby Creek is a clear-running mountain stream and the quality of its water is equal to....

HS (4 Oct. 1884) Obit James B. Morrison, fatally injured in logging camp on Jacoby Creek; young man; funeral at Catholic Church.

WT-T (1 Nov. 1884) A sad accident occurred at Jacoby Creek yesterday afternoon by which Milton Fulton, a very worthy man, was killed. We have no particulars than that the locomotive ran off the track, doing considerable damage besides killing Mr. Fulton [regarding above] Theodore Heilbron writes: "It was not the locomotive but a car load of logs that jumped the track in a fifteen degree curve, opposite the camp. The damage done to property amounts to nothing except the tearing up of one rail length of track and slightly damaging one car. The cause of the accident was the car being loaded too heavy. On one side there was one small log and a medium sized butt of a log on the other, the heavy log on what is called the short side of track or the inside of a curve. The train was running very slow. It did not go but two cars' length after jumping the rail. The head truck broke through a small trestle, causing the larger log to fall off the car, forward end first, throwing the small log at right angles with the track and rolling over the brake platform, taking the unfortunate man with it, crushing his skull in a horrible manner, causing death instantly. The log did not strike the track until it was exactly over his head making no bruises on his body. The platform caught his ankle, crushing it in a frightful manner. Mr. Pierce (?) and wife and J. Matheson were looking at the man when he was killed as they were not more than twenty yards from him.

The deceased has been a permanent resident of this county for over twenty-five years, was by occupation a logger and owner of large interests in timber land as well as being a partner of the firm of Flanigan & Brosnan. The fact that the burial was to take place today brought to the City a number of people from Jacoby Creek and other places.

DT-T (16 Jan. 1886) There is not a little complaint in regard to what ought to be a daily and legitimate mail service around the bay between this place and Arcata. Our obliging friend Garcelon, who engineers the daily stage on that route, has tried hard to accommodate the people on that road. We have never heard a complaint of failure on his part to do so. But it would be better on the part of everybody interested if post offices could be established at Freshwater and Bayside. It remains with the people of those up-the-bay points to act. Both communities referred to have six times the number of people to entitle them to mailing points. But they want to say something to the post office department in connection with the accommodation which we refer to.

DT-T (14 Feb. 1886) Mrs. Nancy Weatherby, mother of D. Weatherby, a logger well-known on this bay, died at St. Stephens, New Brunswick on the 17th ult.

DT-T (17 Feb. 1886) James Morrison, superintendent of logging operations on the Flanigan & Brosnan claim on Jacoby Creek, was in the city on Sunday. He says the winter has been one of the moistest he ever knew in the logging woods and outside of chopping but little work has been done. Fifty odd hands are employed at present, but the number will be increased to a hundred as soon as the weather permits. The railroad is in good repair all the way from the new camp to the landing on the bay. The farmers in the Jacoby Creek region feel assured that this year's crops of grain and vegetables will exceed those of any very recent one.

DT-T (20 Feb. 1886) Born at Bayside Feb. 14th to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cox, a daughter. Born at Bayside Feb. 15th to Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCutcheon, a son.

DT-T (24 Feb. 1886) David Williams, the man who was injured Thursday while at work in the logging woods on Jacoby Creek, died at his home in this city yesterday morning....The deceased leaves a wife and four children.

Died in Eureka Feb. 23 David Williams a native of New Brunswick, aged 45 years.

DT-T (23 March 1886) The Rocky gulch logging claim on Jacoby Creek is to be started up in a few days.

DT-T (23 March 1886) Born near Bayside March 21st to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drew, a daughter.

DT-T (31 March 1886) Robert Young has been selected by Wm. Carson as foreman of the Rocky Gulch logging claim on Jacoby Creek and has taken charge. A full crew of men will be put to work there next Monday.

DT-T (31 March 1886) The gentlemen interested in the manufacture of lumber are now selecting crews to work in the logging woods and are making arrangements to commence operations. A large number of men will be placed in the woods this spring.

DT-T (7 May 1886) Daniel Cloney met with an accident while at work on Flanigan's claim on Jacoby Creek by which he cut off one of his toes.

DHT (6 June 1886) Died at Bayside June 1st of pleuropneumonia, wife of John E. Matheson, aged 37 years and 4 days, a native of Lake George, Prince William, New Brunswick.

DHT (6 June 1886) The shingle mills of Dolbeer & Carson and Harpst, Spring & Co. on the Arcata Road, are in active operation.

DHT (6 June 1886) Five weeks ago Mrs. George Connors started for a visit to her old home in New Brunswick, where she will pass the summer months.

Geo. Connors of Jacoby Creek was in Eureka yesterday. He reports splendid crop prospects and that road overseer Sowash has placed the road from the crossing of the Flanigan, Brosnan & Company railroad to the Nellist farm in splendid condition. The firm above named are now employing about one hundred men in their logging camps.

DHT (12 June 1886) Born at Bayside June 5th to Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Noble, a daughter.

AU (25 Dec. 1886) Flanigan & Brosnan will continue their logging operations on Jacoby Creek all winter.

AU (12 Feb. 1887) Postmaster Dyer of Bayside has his new post-office in full blast, though a few conveniences in the way of mail bags, a mail contractor, blanks and some other little matters have not yet been provided. Bayside is a growing place and contains a thriving and energetic people. A sidewalk is soon to be built from the Carson railroad to the school house, which will be a great accommodation to pedestrians, particularly to school children.

SBF 23:47 (30 April 1887) Geo. Connors has sold his little farm at Bayside, Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. were the purchasers. We learn that the firm will soon erect a building and open a store on the land. It adjoins their Jacoby Creek ranch.

AU (18 June 1887) The large store of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. on Jacoby Creek is nearly ready for occupancy. The Huestis Bros. are doing the painting. It will be a valuable addition to that enterprising burg.

AU (6 Aug. 1887) Henry Stern and Winters went fishing to Jacoby Creek last Friday. Trout? We should say so. They brought back their baskets and pockets full of them.

AU (20 Aug. 1887) There is no rural district in the county that is improving faster than Bayside. Some very cosy residences have been built, and others are in course of erection, about which are tasty flower gardens and clusters of small fruits growing. The store of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. sits to the right of the road just as you enter the creek bottom, going from Arcata to Eureka, nearly opposite the Good Templar's Hall, a building used for occasional religious services and other public purposes. A good sized school house, a few hundred yards north of the hall, is well filled with intelligent looking children, many of the girls in attendance being well grown Misses. The store is a large and handsome building and will be quite an acquisition to the place when the goods with which it is to be stocked arrive. David Dyer is a pioneer of the place, has a nice little farm and garden and a pleasant and lovely location on the bank of the creek at the bridge. We make special mention of our old friend Dyer because he is the only living Republican postmaster north of San Francisco that we know of. He keeps the postoffice at his house.

AU (3 Sept. 1887) Postmaster Dyer of Bayside left at this office a box of German prunes grown on his place that are the largest we ever saw. They are of excellent flavor.

AU (10 Sept. 1887) John Mitchell of Bayside cut his throat with a razor on Tuesday morning, with suicidal intent. Dr. Force was called and arrived just in time to sew up the wound and save the victim's life. Mr. Mitchell was one of the early settlers of Bayside and is a sober, industrious man. His family affairs, however, have not been pleasant for some years past. A year or more ago he was divorced from his first wife, marrying again immediately after. The second marriage proved of shorter duration than the first, his wife sharing his bed and board but a few weeks. The last separation caused him much trouble and we believe is still in court. He ate his breakfast on Tuesday morning, went to his room, and got his razor, and slashed it across the left side of his throat. He did not reach the juggler, but cut a frightful gash, from which so much blood had flown before the doctor reached there that life was almost extinct. He told the doctor he had not slept for two weeks, and it is thought that nervous prostration had produced temporary insanity. The doctor thinks he will recover from this attempt, and it is to be hoped he will think better of the matter and conclude to remain on earth a while longer. He has no children.

AU (10 Sept. 1887) The new store of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. at Bayside has been opened with a complete assortment of new goods and will be found quite a convenience to that thickly populated locality. Frank Stern, the old time accommodating clerk of Harpst & Spring, has been placed in charge of the business. Could not be in better hands.

AU (5 Nov. 1887) Local Resources. Jacoby Creek. Paper No. 1.

Twenty years ago the broad area of bottom land was crossed by the present wagon road. This undertaking created a desire for settlement. The land was covered by a dense growth of underbrush; tall spruce trees of giant dimensions reared their stately heads over the jungle, the branches straight and needle covered, reaching almost to the ground; alder, ash, willow, maple and pepperwood, royally draped in a close and shimmering emerald foliage, flung a roof over all, forming a natural conservatory. The soil was moist and yielding, even to the summer months, and in winter a swamp almost impossible to cross. This natural condition prevailed over the entire bottom, with two trifling exceptions--a small opening about the center and another small patch opposite, Mr. Foltz's house. Both openings were covered with hazel and wild rose, the former utilized by the Indians as a food supply, while the latter shed around the lustre of its beauty and filled the air with the fragrance of its odors. This bottom was the natural home of the elk, deer and bear, and up to 1860, they roamed in almost undisturbed abandon. The stream was filled with speckled beauties, and the salmon--in season--crowded in thousands up this silvery pathway. This introduction is necessary to prepare the mind fully for the present marvelous transformation. Today all this is changed. Forest and jungle have alike disappeared, as if a Merlin had waved his wand and brought forth this marvelous scene by the power of enchantment. Cosy homes dot the landscape, and well-tilled fields attest, by their annual yield, the fruitfulness of the soil. A large, well-appointed school house stands in proud prominence as a factor in this civilization to afford means for a healthy mental growth--ample accommodation for about 80 children. Altogether this locality bears manifest evidence of what can be done by active, energetic and wide awake people. Nearly all of these settlers worked in the logging woods during the summer months, and during the winter worked laboriously clearing the land, and today enjoy the blessings of their thrift and labor.

Five years ago, Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. inaugurated an undertaking, which has steadily developed, and which is still going forward with a momentum adequate to the force employed. The railroad from the landing to the edge of the redwood was located and surveyed by R.F. Herrick, and is an admirable piece of road, carefully graded and in first-class condition. From the edge of the woods, up the creek, the difficulties of engineering begin. From this point Mr. Flanigan, with indefatigable zeal, skill and energy has prosecuted the work. The wonder is how an untried engineer could have been so successful in grappling with the situation. Every advantage is taken of the rough character of the ground, the formidable difficulties being overcome in a most skillful manner, and the grade pushed to the falls. No description of this property would be full or veracious without mentioning the able lieutenant of Mr. Flanigan, Mr. Selvage, whose intelligent efforts to second his chief has largely contributed to present forward condition of the work. At this point the full flow of all the resources of this section is fully developed and opened for commercial purposes and all this has been accomplished in the face of the weekly output of logs. The trees are magnificent, and cover the ground at an average of 50 to 60 M feet per acre. One hundred men are employed with all the modern appliances of logging, under the energetic superintendence of James Morrison, who is fully alive to the trust which is reposed in him by the company. To witness the system and order of all the details of the work; to see the great logs moved from the ground to the various landings for railroad transfer to tide water is a treat which well repays a visit.

Marble

Close to the present terminus is the famous ledge of marble which promises to afford, in the future, occupation for a great number of men. This marble will compare favorably with the best Italian marble imported. It has been thoroughly tested by the Carlow Bros. of Sacramento, and for beauty and luster of polish, grain, fibre and brilliancy of face, is of surpassing elegance.

Water can be brought from the creek to run the saws, and it does not require the spirit of prophecy to predict that in a short time the finest slabs for billiard tables, shafts for monuments, and in the numerous domestic uses to which it can be put, such as table and bureau tops, wash basin and closet trimmings, it will take the place of the imported article, and be a formidable competitor in the market, afforded at a much cheaper rate to the purchaser, and thereby save thousands of dollars to the State. Should it be able to withstand our humid climate, it will entirely drive its rival from our field at least, the Italian marble, not having given entire satisfaction. It is safe to state that this marble will become of great commercial importance and that it will find its way to the East in profitable lots to the manufacturers.

AU (5 Nov. 1887) Two weeks ago an infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Frazer of Bayside died of diphtheria. Mr. Frazer informed us this week that there has been no more cases in the vicinity....

AU (12 Nov. 1887) Local Resources. Jacoby Creek. Paper No. 2.

Lime

This marble quarry is bound in the future to display a very important part in the commercial relations of the county. This is advanced in no spirit of boasting, but springs from a thorough knowledge of the subject and a realization of its commercial importance. The sagacious mind of Mr. Flanigan fully appreciates the fact; and the railroad is pushed rapidly to completion, to forward these results. As a lime quarry this marble is an overgrown fortune. With every accessory to make an article of commerce cheaply, it will become a formidable rival to the Santa Cruz monopoly. When we view all the natural facilities which abound within easy reach, a glance will convince the most skeptical that lime can be manufactured here cheaper than at the Santa Cruz kilns. The quarried material can be laid down at the kiln from an incline; the kilns discharged on a level with the railroad platform. The material for barrels and firewood is lying in an abundant profusion on every side. The mill that manufactures the barrels can be run by water for a motor. The lime can be shipped daily on the railroad--thus saving storage handling--and be deposited at steamer warehouse, where three dollars per ton--or perhaps less, will place it on the wharf at San Francisco. This is not imaginative or ephemeral as the picture projected on the plane of a magic lantern, but can be verified any day by parties desirous of becoming familiar with the facts. There is no business that keeps step with the music of the times, as this of lime. It is a growth of our growth, and must keep pace with the wants and necessities of the people....

AU (19 Nov. 1887) Local Resources. Jacoby Creek. Paper No. 3.

Granite

An excellent quality of this rock is found on the creek. It is not so hard as the now famous Mad river granite, but is firm and flawless, of first rate cleavage, and much easier wrought into shape. For curbing, coping and stepping, it will compare favorably with the Rocklin article, and its accepting a handsome polish would answer admirably for all monumental purposes. Should the Government resolve to build a breakwater, or seek to improve the harbor by jetty, no better stone could be found than this. It resists the action of water and fire, and atmosphere has little or no disintegrating effect upon it; these qualities being recommendations of the highest order. It could be furnished at the very lowest rates, as transportation is easy, freight at nominal figures, and access complete.

Sandstone

By far the most interesting feature of this creek is the sandstone formation. Here nature, in her great laboratory, is engaged in the wonderful process of development. From the soft to the hardest, so plastic that it may almost be formed by the fingers, and so solid that it requires the very best of tools to form it into shape. It rapidly hardens when exposed to the air, can be readily quarried to any sized blocks, and as a cheap building material, durable and fine in appearance, would soon work itself to the front in public favor. In this connection, there is a very fine grained sandstone close to Boynton's Prairie admirably adapted for grindstones. The texture of this rock is such that for grinding edge tools it can not be surpassed by any article of the kind brought from the east.

Quartz

There is also a quartz ledge at the head of the creek, which, doubtless, carries gold. It has never been prospected thoroughly from the fact that it is too near home and consequently worthless. No evidence of coal has been found on the creek, although an excellent quality of lignite has been found in this range, and doubtless, if a thorough exploration were extended, coal might yet be found.

Water Supply

The force and volume of this clear crystal fluid can not be overestimated. With an abundance of material on hand for building a concrete dam, any length or height, for a storage pond of clear cold water, free from all impurities, can be developed. Here would be a chance for Eureka to own her own water works at very little expense; the mains could be laid directly to the town across the marsh, the whole distance within the compass of ten or twelve miles. Again, as a source of power it could be utilized for milling purposes, affording the best and most economical...[illegible]

The time is near at hand when mills will be an absolute necessity in the various industries which this section can furnish. There is no hazard in asserting there will be a woolen factory, also factories of all kinds of wooden ware, veneering, paneling and moulding; utilizing the ungainly stump, which is now a blemish to the landscape and too expensive to be removed for the purpose of making a farm. The day this force would be brought out of the creek would hail the dawn of a new era, and manufacturing become the rule and not the exception as it is at present.

Redwood Stumps

If a person would say that there were many redwood stumps standing in the forest that were worth one thousand dollars each, he would be regarded as a crank. But nevertheless there are thousands awaiting the saw to cut them into proper dimensions for commercial uses. Let but a method be advised for cutting the stumps into sections, and the finest specimens of veneering, moulding, paneling that ever were seen would be the immediate result. Banisters, posts, and in fact in every situation where the beauty of the native wood is desired, this timber will vie with mahogany, and for elegance and beauty of shade and figure would bear off the palm. This industry must soon begin and the first mill erected will be the prelude to others. This is an important though undeveloped resource; it would require less capital than the shingle mill, and its profits would be greater. A beginning is only necessary for this enterprise and although the material is almost limitless, the demand would, for years, far exceed the supply. This wood is readily adapted to the class of cabinet work for bureau and cabinet fronts, and delicate paneling, where soft warm tints are required. For elegant stands and center tables, admitting an infinite degree of finish and polish this would be worthy the deft manipulation of the most skilled workman in the country. A great industry lies concealed within this resource which is almost beyond computation in extent and value. As it remains now, it is not only utterly worthless but a damage to the land.

AU (26 Nov. 1887) Local Resources. Jacoby Creek. Paper No. 4.

Tan Bark

This industry has assumed large proportions of late years under the manipulation of James F. Denny. The business has acquired a prominence which very few people would fully realize. During the season hundreds of men are engaged peeling; and fifteen or twenty teams employed in the daily transportation to the various shipping points. A short distance above the present terminus of the Jacoby Creek Railroad the bark timber begins to be found. Tan bark trees grow to an elevation of from 100 to 200 feet, reaching a diameter of from two or three feet. The tree is tall and finely shaped, sparsely limbed and foliage slight. At a certain period the bark can be easily peeled off, when it is sun dried and corded, ready to be marketed. Southeast and west from this point, the groves are magnificent and the trees thrifty and large. A wagon road cut to the creek to intersect the railroad from Kneeland and Boynton's Prairie would bring all this output within easy reach of the railroad and thus afford a cheap route for the commodity. When the railroad is pushed up the creek a mile or so farther, it will provide a means for transportation for all the ridge beyond, extending for miles and affording occupation for hundreds of men, and a wide field for teamsters. The demand for bark is constantly increasing, and as the range is widening, the hauling or moving of it cost too much, not affording a safe margin for profit. But with pressing the railroad into this new belt, and developing this source the field will again be opened, and it will last for years to come. Thus the railroad would tap a supply of oak lying so near the line that the shameful waste of the stripped trees might be avoided by chopping them into stovewood, which would always command a good price in Eureka. A bark claim in that event would be worth three times its present value, which would be ample consideration to give it favorable attention. When the railroad would tap this oak the merits of some of this species would be better and more widely known. A market might also be found for it, and quite a business developed. The permanence of this road would be assured, as Jacoby Creek is the natural outlet for Kneeland and Boynton Prairies. It would place those two points within eight miles of Arcata; and it would be fair to imply that a constant stream of up river travel would connect at this point. It is worthy attention from a business point of view.

Enterprise

In taking leave of Jacoby Creek, we do so with great reluctance, for justice cannot be fully done to its vast resources in the small compass of a few brief notes. Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. have exhibited a creditable degree of energy and enterprise in developing this prolific region, and they are desirous to meet all its varied requirements of transportation by affording opportunities for handling freight in a very economical manner. For this purpose they propose to build large scows, capable of carrying ten or twelve cars. Upon these scows the cars can be placed and borne to any part of the Bay, thus saving the cost of handling and consequent loss of time. This will be an important factor in the bark industry, as it would afford the barkmen an opportunity to store their bark under shed on the line of the road, when it could be shipped when desirable, by this means controlling the lower market, instead of San Francisco controlling the market here. It would then have a specific value and would vastly improve the business. The wise prudence and business sagacity which has been displayed in every step of this enterprise is of the most commendable character, and the time is close at hand when they will realize the full advantage of the venture.

AU (3 Dec. 1887) Local Resources. Ranch of Harpst & Spring. Paper No. 5.

Braeside, the magnificent estate of Harpst & Spring, is situated on the west side of the long spur which divides the waters of Mad river from Humboldt Bay. Braeside is a compound word, and embraces in its significant meaning every salient feature of this interesting landscape. As the firm of Harpst & Spring is actively engaged, not only in their mercantile enterprises, which are large, but also in the development of local resources, an article devoted to a description of this ranch must, necessarily, be of interest. Nestling in its warm and sungilded shelter, it presents a beautiful appearance. It reaches from Foltz's creek on the south to within half a mile of the town of Arcata. To add to its interest the entire valley was, in a past geologic period, the outlet of Jacoby creek; and it is a beautiful study to view the means nature employed to change the stream to its present course. Vast landslides have interposed, doubtless brought about by the subsidence of the waters. In the economy of nature this gives warmth to the entire basin, as it is underlaid by a bed of decomposed gravel, which receives heat rapidly and radiates it slowly.

Clearing

The 2779 acres which this ranch contains are in all stages of transition, from the finest careful cutting for lumber, next gathering shake and shingle bolts; then firewood; then again the "slashing," and finally the passage of the fire king over all. These processes are in active operation on all sides; and at present, the already seeded portions affords pasture for about 400 head of cattle. It [illegible] an evidence of the exceedingly great fertility of this soil, and the capricious activity of nature to say, that in 1860 the entire basin of this ranch was an open prairie. Now it is covered by a thicket of fir trees, grown so closely and densely as to preclude the possibility of other growth, native to the soil. You can view beneath this leafy arbor the remains of the former shrubbery. A large portion of this recent growth has been cut and cleared, there being usually about one hundred acres "slashed" burned and seeded annually.

Sheepfold

For a sheepfold it would be one of the best in the county. The sunny exposure of the hills; the nutritious browse which the entire slope affords; the abundant water supply, dancing merrily in its course, and above all the natural advantages which the ranges afford for the growth of every variety of tame grass. In the valley the moisture is sufficient for thrifty and almost continuous growth; on the mountain top, the summit is enshrouded during the summer months with fogs, affording abundant moisture, with a perennial verdure. This is one of the most important undeveloped resources of this estate. If a good seed can be found, one not easily trampled out, of strong and resistant growth, this land can be made one of the best pastures in the State. A sheep ranch can be conducted here, upon most economical and advantageous principles. Sheds, for their shelter, could be cheaply erected. The sheep fattened here can be shipped to the San Francisco market without the fatigue and consequence loss of flesh of long drives. The wool shorn and baled, and with the aid of railroad facilities, landed in the lower market at the very minimum of expense.

Shingles

This vast and ever increasing industry has here one of the best fields in Humboldt County. On August 1st, 1882, a shingle mill was built, which has been running continuously since. A glance at the output will furnish some conception of the vast proportion of this immense business:

1882.....	6,500,000
1883.....	20,000,000
1884.....	20,000,000
1885.....	20,000,000
1886.....	20,000,000
1887.....	17,500,000
Total.....	104,000,000

These figures are of sufficient magnitude to attract attention, and when we add that this may be continued for twenty years to come, some idea may be formed of this valuable industry. Shingles are steadily increasing in price, as the demand has already extended beyond the confines of the State. To add interest to these marvelous and stupendous results, the whole of this princely revenue is derived from the waste incidentally accruing from logging, that costs the company nothing, save the cost of production.

In 1884, a fancy shingle machine was introduced which adds to the former figures, 1,500,000. In 1885 through the ingenuity of Ole Hansen, a shake machine was put up, which bids fair to outrival all others for practical utility. This invention is a genuine automatic machine, running without the slightest jar, and as steady as a clock; the [illegible] fall from it from any gage or width; adjusting itself to the ever varying bolts, with remarkable ease, precision and speed. Its daily output is 15,000. By the mechanical skill of Mr. Hans Anderson all this wonderful machinery has been greatly improved. To his patient and untiring efforts this machinery has been brought to its utmost capacity, every class of labor saving implements have been added, and all of the drudgery and heavy lifting of the old fashioned system of milling has been entirely superseded by his improved methods. About twenty-five men are employed about the mill.

Shake and Shingle Bolts

Mr. C.J. Harpst has the control of the yards and woods. This labor has been completely systematized and its subdivisions are under competent and energetic foremen. Sixty-five are employed in the woods getting out bolts; twenty-eight horses and mules, with large heavy wagons, capable of carrying two or three cords, are employed in the transportation, and such is the provident character of this company that 1000 cords are piled within the area of the mill yard for winter use. The convenience for the delivery of the shingles, as taken from the packers hands, are placed on a car and hauled to the landing over a well appointed tramway, a distance of one mile and a half and from that point boated to the sea going vessels.

Barns and Stables

There are four large barns on the ranch. One 200 feet in length, with stall room for 40 head of cattle; two barns 60 feet long each for teams and feed, and one hay barn for the cattle on the range.

All of this large business flows directly from gathering the waste, following the first logging. The broken portion of the large logs are made into bolts, every piece that will make a shake or a shingle goes; after this the residue gathered for locomotive firewood; by this careful system the minutest fragments are saved and a profit drawn from it all. In the final clearings, fire is put to the remainder, and the ashes serve to enrich the ground for the reception of the grasses.

Butchering

This ranch has a finely equipped butcher shop under the skillful management of Mr. Joseph Meagher. The company supply the camp of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co., the Jolly Giant camp, their employees on the ranch and several minor customers. This requires seven beeves per week. Great numbers of hogs are slaughtered; tons of bacon and hams, and many thousand pounds of kettle dried lard put up in 5 and 10 lb. tins annually.

Harpst & Spring, in connection with their mercantile business, own an interest with Mr. S. Meyers in the Jolly Giant shingle mill, which has an annual output of 22,000,000 shingles. Also in the lumber manufacturing firm of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co., one half interest in mill, railroad, and timber land, thus identifying themselves with every lumbering interest north of Jacoby creek to the Jolly Giant Mill.

AU (14 April 1888) Death of James Beith—James Beith died at his residence two miles from Arcata on the Eureka road, on last Monday afternoon. He came down with pneumonia on the first day of April and died on the 9th.

Deceased was born in the city of Glasgow Scotland on the 4th day of March 1729 and was 59 years of age on the 4th of last month. He arrived in Arcata (then Union) in 1851, where he was joined by his father and family in 1853. The family settled upon the homestead above mentioned shortly after their arrival here, where they have since resided and where the father died a few years ago, having lived more than four score years.

James Beith, though never having enjoyed the advantages of a finished education, was far above the average of educated men as an orator and writer. As a fluent and entertaining public speaker, he had few if any equals in Humboldt County, and none were better read in European history. He took a lively interest in the development of our county, and has done much with tongue and pen to make known our slumbering wealth. He was the author of the interesting articles that appeared in the Union last winter under the head of "Local Resources." He served the county on the Board of Supervisors, where he was active and vigilant and the people owe to him as much as any other man, the magnificent court house that now graces the City of Eureka.

Deceased was generous to a fault, warm hearted as man can be, true as steel to his word, devoted to those whose care devolved upon him and loyal to his friends. About two weeks before his death, eh was loaned by the writer of this the works of Henry M. Stanley—Through the Dark Continent. He had spoken to us from time to time of his great interest in the perilous marches of Stanley and in his delirium during the fatal sickness, his mind wandered into the jungles along the banks of the Congo and he talked of boats, falls, savages, etc. A leaf turned down in the chapter describing the loss, by going over the falls, of Frank Pocock, the last of Stanley's European companions, shows at what point he dropped the book. This made an impression on the mind of the deceased that held presage in his burning brain. Poor Beith. While so deeply interested in following the great explorer through the Dark Continent he was himself called to that mysterious continent about which no return voyage has ever written a book. Peace to his ashes.

The funeral took place from the family home at 10:30 Wednesday under the direction of the Humboldt County Pioneers of which deceased was an active and worthy member. There was a large turn out of pioneers from Eureka, some coming by the morning boat, others around the bay. The pall bearers were Robt. Walker, B. Pouleur, R. Wiley, B.M. Stokes, John McConnaghy and Frank Bincaz. The procession was one quarter of a mile in length, there being 50 carriages and buggies in line. Deceased was laid along side his venerable father in Greenwood Cemetery, the impressive burial service of the Pioneers being read by Pioneer, Rev. J.S. Todd.

AU (12 Jan. 1889) Salmon in great numbers have been finding their way from the bay into Jacoby creek for a week or more past. The fish are in search of spawning grounds and are being captured by the boat load near the mouth of the creek.

AU (31 May 1890) Joseph Nellist, who owns and lives on the old Jacoby ranch near Bayside, sent to this office on Wednesday some ripe and [delicious] strawberries grown on his place. The hillside part of his ranch is just the place to grow this fruit.

AU (20 Sept. 1890) Postmaster Dyer of Bayside was in town on Tuesday. He reports farming operations on the creek in a satisfactory condition. The hay crop is all in, but threshing has not begun. The potato and fruit crop is larger than usual.

AU (6 Dec. 1890) Suit has been commenced in the Superior Court by Wm. Nicholson against Samuel Getchell to have defendant enjoined from maintaining a bulkhead or breakwater across Jacoby Creek at his premises near Bayside which adjoins those of plaintiff. An injunction in this case was issued out of the Superior Court last Wednesday. The plaintiff is represented by Thos. H. Selvage, Esq.

AU (31 Jan. 1891) To the people of Bayside and Arcata, the bar improvement now under contract to Simpson & Brown is of considerable interest as much of the labor to be performed and money to pay for the same will be directly felt by them. The rock, which is the principal item of expense in the work, will be taken from the extensive granite quarry of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. on Jacoby Creek. The quarry is located on the south side of the creek and is within a few steps of the firm's logging road, so that no extra road building will be required to reach the quarry.

Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. have a contract with Simpson & Brown to supply the 50,000 ton of rock and haul it to deep water, Simpson & Brown doing the quarrying and loading and unloading the cars. To comply with the contract, Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. will have to build a wharf and railroad track from their present dump out to deep water, a distance of about one mile. Mr. Brown, an experienced quarryman, will take charge of the work at the quarry, while Mr. Flanigan will superintend the building of the wharf and rail track. Work has been commenced for the wharf and will be pushed with all possible speed, depending somewhat on the weather. As Mr. Brown will have quite a large crew and F.B.&Co. a good many men, times will be pretty lively about Bayside the coming summer.

AU (7 Feb. 1891) Three branches of the Farmers Alliance, one at the Janes district, one at Bayside and one at Arcata, have been organized this week. J.W. Hines, State organizer, has been here on that business. Farmers appear to take kindly to this new order of things.

AU (11 April 1891) Active operations in the Jacoby Creek granite quarry have commenced and the blasts from there this week have rung out through this section like a bombardment. The wharf is completed and is waiting the arrival of rails to finish the track.

AU (25 April 1891) In about three weeks a blast will be touched off in the Jacoby Creek quarry that will shake this section in a way that will cause people to think that Satan has gone gunning for sinners. A tunnel into the solid ledge, 125 feet in length, is now being run at right angles from the end of the main, two side tunnels will be run 50 feet in length, all of which are about 100 feet below the surface of the ledge. When completed 18,000 pounds of powder will be placed in the tunnels and all ignited at once. It will be for the heaviest blast ever made in this county. The ordinary blasts of rock and redwood trees, which our people are accustomed to hear, are about like the report of shotguns as compared to what this blast will be. It will be touched off by electricity and due notice will be given to people to stand from under.

The face of the ledge has already been blasted off and there is now a large quantity of rock ready for shipment. The rock in this quarry is inexhaustible and it is expected that the big blast will break up thousands of tons. The railroad will be completed today to the end of the wharf in the bay channel and the work of delivering rock at the entrance will begin next week.

AU (2 May 1891) Born at Bayside, April 26 to wife of Robert McCutcheon, a son.

AU (30 May 1891) The big blast in the Jacoby Creek quarry, of which mention was made a month or more ago, was set off one week ago last Sunday. The report was not great, but the earth was shaken for quite a distance around the discharge. The blast did all that was expected or required. Seams were opened from the tunnels to the top of the rock so that the work of blasting is made easy. Perhaps not less than 100,000 tons of rock was loosened by the blast.

AU (6 June 1891) Born at Bayside, May 31, to the wife of Wm. Henry, a son.

AU (13 June 1891) The beautiful valley of Jacoby Creek, with its fertile fields and cosy houses, is one of the inviting sections of the county. Flying through the lower valley on the train yesterday, we almost envied the possessions, their tempting gardens and clover blossoms.--

AU (5 Sept. 1891) Jacoby Creek Works--In 1887, the late James Beith of this place wrote a series of articles under the head of "Local Resources," which were published in the Arcata Union. The papers referred principally to the undeveloped wealth of the Jacoby creek section. Among the various sources of latent wealth of which the writer spoke was the one of the valuable rock that line the banks of that stream for quite a distance, and the facilities for getting it out. Sooner, perhaps, than was then anticipated this branch of Mr. Beith's predicted wealth has come to the surface.

On Saturday last, in company with O.H. Spring and E.L. Allen of San Francisco, we paid a visit to the Jacoby creek quarries where the work of getting out rock for the bar improvement, now under contract to Simpson & Brown, is in progress. Taking a seat in the big locomotive that moves the rock cars, we went to the end of the wharf and witnessed the operation of loading cars on the railroad scow. The scow has three rail tracks which connect at the apron of the wharf with three other tracks. Each of the tracks on the scow carries seven cars, making 21 in all, each car being loaded with ten ton, or over of rock. The work of loading the cars on the scow is quickly done, the apron being adjusted to the scow by the locomotive, and the cars run on in about 15 or 20 minutes. After witnessing the operation of loading the scows we returned to the shingle mill cook house and partook of a substantial and well cooked dinner. Mounting the big locomotive again, we were whirled along through the lovely little valley of Jacoby creek to the quarry, about two miles above the county road. Three different and distinct quarries, within a quarter of a mile of each other, are being worked on the creek, with railroad switches to each. Large derricks, rigged with wire rope, and run by stream donkeys lift the rock from the bed of the creek to the cars. Three-fourths of the rock must weigh over a ton to each piece. The large rock is lifted into the cars by chains, while the smaller rock is hoisted in cribs. The rock is easy of access and there is no limit to the quantity. Forty-two car loads, or about 450 tons, each day, is the average days work.

The railroad over which the rock is carried is the property of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. and connects directly with the logging and shingle works of that firm. The road running out into the bay was built under the supervision of Mr. Flanigan, and is the most substantial piece of work in the county over tide water. The big locomotive and tender, weighing 45 tons, does not shake it. The caps and stringers are of hewn timber, 12 or 14 inches in thickness, and broad enough to bear any weight that can be placed on the road. Under each cap are three piles, and as the fresh water from Jacoby creek runs parallel with the road to the channel, it is not likely that worms will ever seriously interfere with the piles. The railroad is valuable for the reason that it will serve the double purpose of delivering into tide water both rock and logs.

Handling the rock cars is one of the responsible positions of the work. All this is done by the big engine in charge of engineer Chas. Monahan, who delivers the empties to the different quarries, picks up the loaded cars and delivers them on board the scows. Telephone stations are located at the switches, quarries and logging stations so as to inform the engineers of the movements of the locomotives.

The day was pleasantly spent in viewing the works, and to Mr. Spring, Frank Stern, manager of the Bayside store, and engineer Monahan and his assistant, Mr. Allen, the Union editor desire to publicly acknowledge their thanks for courtesies shown them during the day.

AU (7 Nov. 1891) On last Saturday afternoon a fatal accident occurred at Jacoby Creek. As nearly as can be learned, two men named John Healey and Gus Johnson were working at the face of the quarry when a huge boulder fell on them from above. The other laborers noticing the boulder loosening shouted a warning and Johnson started to run, but Healey, seeming to have lost all presence of mind, stood as one dazed and the huge mass fell full upon him, crushing the life out of him. Although warned in time, Johnson was unable to get completely out of the way and being struck by the rock sustained a broken arm. The dead man was about 30 years of age, but as yet nothing can be learned of his [relatives].

AU (20 Feb. 1892) Our Marsh Land--Partly surrounding Arcata, extending from Brainard's Point on the southeast to the vicinity of the mouth of Mad river on the west, is a strip of marsh land, most of which the tide ebbs and flows over, consisting of several thousand acres. No richer or more productive land than this is to be found in any country, but it cannot be utilized while salt water flows over it. One or two attempts have been made to dike small patches of this land, but in only one case that we know of was the dike built in such manner as to keep out the salt water long enough to give the land a fair trial. Recently, however, work has been commenced with a view of making a success of the undertaking. Thos. Bair, President of the Bank of Arcata, is the owner of a half section of land about two miles west of Arcata of which 200 acres is marsh....A contract has been let to build over 500 rods of dike, which will reclaim pretty much all the marsh land and convert the entire 320 acres into one farm, all of which can be cultivated....

HDS (23 April 1892) Editor Standard,....We called at Flanigan & Brosnan's works and on invitation of Messrs. Flanigan and John Harpst, we visited their marsh improvements. They intend to reclaim about 150 acres and Harpst and Spring are also reclaiming a large tract in the vicinity.

We next visited the logging camp, where we found James Morrison in charge, who received us kindly. Here a large force of men is at work removing a big slide which occurred a few days ago. They are removing the debris by means of sluice boxes, the water being brought from some distance up the creek. The boxes are run almost full and the men shovel the mud into them, five men doing the work which it would take 25 men to do any other way. Mr. Flanigan informs us that he will have the slide out of the way in a couple of days. Logging progresses at this camp when the weather permits.—Observer.

AU (21 May 1892) The Bayside WCTU are preparing for a Demurest silver medal contest, which will take place at Temperance hall next Friday evening, May 27th. The competition will be lively and the entertainment an interesting one. To meet expenses an admission fee of ten cents will be charged. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

HDS (30 May 1892) Up Arcata Way—On a visit up Arcata way, from which I returned yesterday, I saw plenty of things that may be of interest....At Harpst & Spring's Union Shingle mill they are manufacturing from eighty to ninety thousand shingles per day, twenty thousand of which are fancy shingles in the usual shapes. They are running 18 hours per day which may account for the large cut. They now have 35 men at work in the mill and woods and for the number turn out lots of work.

Besides the mill and woods crew the company has 18 men employed in dyking marsh land which on completion will make a claim of 160 acres reclaimed from old ocean. They are now running a larch ranch of which they have this year 150 acres in grain. They employ on the ranch four men who are kept busy on the ordinary work of the place. They have 325 head of cattle on the range, 100 head of sheep and a large number of hogs. In the dairy they have 100 cows furnishing milk and butter for their men.

C.I. Harpst is the superintendent of this business and he is most painstaking in his outlook over its affairs. The enterprise is a large one and is growing every day.—Observer

HDS (6 June 1892) [picnic at Jacoby Creek]

AU (18 June 1892) The Harpst & Spring Dike--....It starts in on the bank of Butcher Slough just beyond the town line and follows the course of the slough as near as possible to the bay. Here it follows along the edge of the mudflats for a mile or more and crosses Flanigan and Brosnan's railroad at the edge of the bay. It then goes down along the bay, comes up and crosses the big slough by the draw bridge where a flood gate will be put in, and follows down the further bank of the slough to the mouth of Jacoby Creek. From there it follows up the bank of the creek till it gets out of the reach of the highest tides and there ends.

The dike is ten feet wide at the base, 4 1/2 feet at the top, and five feet high....The dike, when finished, will be 400 rods long and will enclose about 350 acres of land. Of this land 115 acres belonged to the old Titlow place now owned by Harpst & Spring. Mel Roberts owns a part, Flanigan and Brosnan a part and Harpst & Spring, the remainder....

The dike will be fenced along the inside and when finished will be a very large pasture.

The first owner who took up this marsh as swamp and overflowed land never dreamed that this large stretch of country, from Arcata to Jacoby Creek, inhabited only by the festive clam and the busy little crab would some day be pasture for hundreds of cattle....The expense of building and the credit of inaugurating this fine piece of work was shared in alike by Flanigan & Brosnan and M.P. Roberts.

AU (22 Oct. 1892) In the Matter of the Organization of a Reclamation District of the Lands Herein Described--To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the County of Humboldt....Your petitioners, who represent, are the holders of title to more than half of a body of swamp and overflowed lands....413 acres already reclaimed....John Harpst, O.H. Spring, M.P. Roberts, Flanigan, Brosnan & Co., Mrs. Mary B. Morton and Edwin Mason.

AU (7 Jan. 1893) [storm, "Bayside hall was removed and considerably damaged."]

AU (18 March 1893) Contractor Bull informs us that there are now between 40 and 50 men at work about the Jacoby Creek quarries, preparatory to begin removing rock. Either the middle or last of next week, Major Heuer and his assistants will arrive and lay out the work for a beginning on the north jetty and hauling rock will be commenced at once.

DHS (3 April 1893) [Contractor John Bull, Jr. took crew to spit; the cook house is in running order and the gypsy was to have been taken down this afternoon. The double track railroad at the quarry is about finished.]

DHS (13 April 1893) A message from Bayside at noon informs us that the first load of rock for the north spit jetty had just passed that place and that this rock will be dumped at the jetty tomorrow.

AU (29 April 1893) Work on Jacoby creek quarry is progressing as well as possible under the stress of prevailing weather. The creek was higher last Sunday than it was at any time last winter and interfered with the foundation of the derrick which caused some delay this week. Two or three tunnels are being run which will be set off simultaneously with a view to knocking down the whole face of rock in front of the works.

AU (18 Aug. 1893) Reclaiming Tide Lands--For many years residents of Arcata owned the tide lands adjoining the bay south of town, using them as an inferior pasture occasionally, but the salt water made the feed very inferior and the land, covered by the tide twice a day, served only as a breeding place for mosquitoes and was an eye sore as one approached the place by the railroad. But this is all in process of change. Over a year ago certain men in Arcata determined to redeem their marsh land if possible, and immediately commenced to dyke against the tide, beginning just east of the railroad embankment and working east to the place of M.P. Roberts, who joined with them. From Mr. Roberts' place the work was continued east to the railroad of Flanigan, Brosnan & Co., where a flood gate was put in, and from there further east, redeeming the tide lands of that firm. Altogether the levee is two miles long, ten feet wide at the bottom, and five feet wide on top. The cost was in the neighborhood of five dollars per rod.

At the present time the dyke forms a most efficient barrier against the tide, thoroughly redeeming what would otherwise be valueless marsh land. The amount of land reclaimed is about 400 acres, which, at the present time--but little over a year from the time the dyke was completed--affords excellent pasturage for many head of cattle and horses as the fat stock on the ranch of M.P. Roberts, and of his neighbors, Messrs. Harpst & Spring abundantly prove. The land has not yet been seeded to clover, as there is still too much salt in it for the grass to grow luxuriantly, but here and there sprigs of clover are coming up showing that when the rains of another winter have done their part to clear the land of salt, that the land will be inferior to none on Arcata bottom in its ability to grow a strong crop of that grass. This is land worth in the beginning but a few bits an acre for inferior pasture, transformed in the course of a year to a valuable property, the equal, if not, the superior of any other for grass growing and crop raising purposes.

AU (21 Oct. 1893) Bayside Items, Oct. 19th. Times are lively here now (that is considering the present Democratic Administration). Our public school, under the supervision of W. Saunders, is progressing very rapidly and to the entire satisfaction of all. Miss Sadie Young who has charge of the primary department is doing nicely.

The C. of F. & T. meet as usual every Thursday night and a very enjoyable evening is usually spent.

Rumor has it that wedding bells are soon to be rung in our midst, but as yet, I have not been able to locate the happy couple. But it is very probable that the event will take place in Arcata or at Janes Creek.

There is to be a masquerade ball here next Saturday night and I suppose if the weather permits, there will be a large crowd present. Quite a number of Baysiders attended the masquerade ball at Blue Lake last Saturday evening and all returned home well satisfied with their evening's enjoyment.

Well, so much for this time, the next letter I write my name won't be PLUTO.

AU (28 Oct. 1893) Contractor J.C. Bull, Jr. is to be congratulated for the energy he has shown in getting nearly all of the rock required by his contract on the jetties into place. Work is going on at such a rate that by Dec. 1st, to which date the contract to be fulfilled has been extended, all of the required 60,000 tons will have been put in. Mr. Bull's contract is a continuous one and will last for several years, or until the improvements at the mouth of the harbor have been completed. Mr. D.J. Flanigan, who is superintending the work, has shown the greatest energy in his department and work is now going on at the quarry at night by the electric light.

AU (18 Nov. 1893) The eight-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. James Coady died at their residence on the Eureka Road Sunday evening about 9 o'clock from gripp and bowl complaint.

AU (9 Dec. 1893) Bayside Letter, Dec. 5th. The past week has been a very lively one in this section, considering weddings, minstrel shows, and last, but not least, the timber fever that struck here a few days since. From present appearances it seems as though the storm is over for the present and the tillers of the soil will now have an opportunity to proceed with farm work as usual.

W.S. Lamb and Mrs. M.E. Albee were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mrs. Geo. Mitchell of Bayside, mother of the bride this week. The Rev. Griffith Griffiths of Eureka officiated and none but relatives and a few intimate acquaintances were present during the ceremonies. The newly married couple repaired to their future home at Rohnerville at once, consequently the boys were not afforded their usual opportunity of serenading them with tin pans, cowbells, horns, etc.

The minstrel show given by the amateur talent of this place was a grand success in every particular and although the weather was disagreeable, the hall was comfortably filled and all were very well pleased with the evening's performance. After the performance the seats were set back and all who wished were afforded an opportunity to dance, as long as they chose. At midnight a sumptuous supper was served by Mrs. Dyer to which about forty couples did ample justice.

Well, the grip has about let loose here now and a few days since the timber fever struck. Last Sunday morning a number of Baysiders struck out, taking with them a guide with the intention of making a stake by making a speculation in timber land, but it seems as if nobody knows where. At any rate we hope the boys will have success and if so, perhaps we will try it next time we have an opportunity.

Geo. Hill of Eureka, formerly of your town, came up from Eureka last Tuesday on a duck hunt, but from all appearances of his game bag on his return, it is very probable the ducks flew too high for him.

The water was very high here last Friday which caused the boys to put on their high water boots in order to go calling anywhere close to the creek. PLUTO

AU (30 Dec. 1893) The Humboldt County pamphlet contains good pictures of Devlin's tannery, the creamery, the Methodist church, a bird's eye view of Arcata, Geo. Zehndner's wheat field, the school house, the Mad river quarry, a train load of logs at Bayside, Isaac Minor, Jr's combination bull donkey, the Arcata wharf, the dyking machine at work near town and pictures of all the Mad river mills and scenes in the logging woods above and near Arcata are reproduced....The price is 50 cents per copy and 10 cents postage will send it to any part of the U.S. or Canada....

AU (6 Jan. 1894) Bayside Warblings, Jan. 2d. The timber fever has at last subsided and with one or two exceptions, no very serious cases are reported. The notorious but once prominent Mr. Wood has left us, most probably looking for more timber land in a more favorable section.

Bayside celebrated Christmas with a Christmas tree on the evening of Dec. 23d and on Christmas night a grand ball was given in Dyer's new hall. It was without doubt one of the grandest affairs ever given at Bayside. Twelve sets were on the floor until 2 o'clock in the morning, when few by few they began to return home. However, dancing was kept up till five o'clock in the morning. Over one hundred people partook of the excellent supper at midnight, which was served by Mrs. Dyer for the occasion.

A Christian Endeavor Society is being organized at this place, their meetings to be held each Sunday evening in the Temperance Hall.

The Salvation Army have held several meetings here lately. They always have crowded houses and their preaching and singing is listened to very attentively by the people.

The Bayside minstrels are to give another entertainment in the near future of which more will be said through the columns of the Union in due time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Nicholson, who have been on a visit to Chicago and other places of interest in the east, returned home three weeks since. Both report having had a good time and are warmly welcomed back by their many Humboldt friends.

Rumor has it that a saloon is soon to be started in this place, but at present no particulars have been learned in regard to the matter. Bayside has done very well in the past towards keeping the saloon out, and no doubt will do all that is possible to rid our quiet little village of such a business in the future. Tom and Jerry.

AU (10 Feb. 1894) J.C. Bull, Jr., contractor for jetty work on the bar, informs us that operations will begin at once to carry on the work for the present year, at the same place as formerly. W.E. Dennison, Secretary of the San Francisco Street Improvement Company, which concern holds a large interest in the contract, will have entire control of operations this year. It is the intention to be ready to commence dumping rock by the 15th of April and it will require all the time between now and then to get ready. Large additions are to be made to the rolling stock and machinery of the company. A flume will be built by which water will be conveyed to the rock to wash down the loose dirt, tunnels are to be made and blasting to be done. The Flanigan railroad will be extended 2800 feet to deep water, connecting with the Brainard Point slough, near the black stump. In the face of all the bad luck and other embarrassments that the company had to meet last year, all that was required was performed and it is to be hoped that the business will be conducted in the future with less annoyance to the company.

AU (3 March 1894) Bayside, in and about F.B.&Co.'s store, is a busy locality just now. In company with a lady of our acquaintance, we drove down to Bayside on Monday. Met Mr. Flanigan there. He informed us that between 60 and 70 men were at work at the quarry landings, stripping and washing down rock, building, erecting hoisting works, etc. One train load of piles passed the store while we were there, and as the contract has been let for driving and capping the wharf extension, work will be commenced there this week. A trip through the shingle mill was made. The company has two Hansen machines in operation. These machines are the best so far invented and it would seem that no improvement could be made on them, but there doubtless will be. It requires three packers for the two machines, two of whom are Arcata boys, or young men, Walter Orman and Burr McConnaha. The packers occasionally get so close up with their work that they have a rest for a few minutes. To the foreman of the mill and young McConnaha, the Union returns thanks for kindness shown the editor and his lady friend.

AU (31 March 1894) The extension of railroad wharf of the Flanigan Company to the Brainard channel, a distance of 2800 feet, is about completed and will be ready for rock cars in about two weeks.

AU (7 April 1894) There are now about 125 men at work in the quarries at Jacoby Creek and not more than two weeks time will be required to have everything in readiness to begin moving rock.

AU (9 June 1894) Flanigan, Brosnan's Bayside store has been placed in telephone communication with the end of the wharf, where the boats take rock cars in tow.

AU (23 June 1894) The family of Frank Stern has gone into camp on Jacoby Creek, where they will remain for about two months. We believe Mrs. Stern has pitched the first tent of the army of campers that will take the field later on.

BLA (7 July 1894) Foster Evans, who has for several months been employed at the Jacoby Creek quarry, was in town Tuesday and told of the strike there the day before by which, as nearly as he can figure, about 145 men went out. The hands were receiving from $1.25 upward, according to occupation, but were required to pay fifty cents a day for board. The strike was for same pay with board free. The men went out at noon Monday, refusing when the whistle sounded after dinner to return to work.

BLA (14 July 1894) more on strike

AU (14 July 1894) The men engaged in the Jacoby Creek quarry, getting out rock for the jetty, "hit" for an increase of wages the forepart of last week. Concessions were made by the contractors and the crew returned to work Tuesday, being out just one week.

AU (15 Dec. 1894) Another Creamery--Harpst & Spring are preparing to build a creamery and the new concern will be located on the bay side of the road leading from Arcata to Eureka near the residence of Mr. Mason. The firm has two plans on hand, one of which they will build from and the work will be commenced soon. The new creamery will not be a joint stock concern, the growing dairy interests of Harpst & Spring rendering it necessary for them to handle their own milk.

AU (2 Feb. 1895) Operations have been commenced on Harpst & Spring's new creamery and the gravel to be used in the concrete foundation is now being hauled. The location of the land will do away with a tank and pump. The water will be from the creek which has been dammed above the shingle mill, affording an abundant supply of pure water the year around. The hog pen will be on the slough below the creamery and the skimmed milk will be carried down by gravitation, also doing away with a steam pump.

AU (25 May 1895) Harpst and Spring Creamery--The new creamery, built by Harpst Spring is now in complete running order and is handling about five tons of milk daily, a little more than one fifth of which is produced by their own dairy. The building of the creamery was not so much an enterprise for handling the milk of others as for their own convenience. Their creamery is the cheapest one so far built at this end of the bay, costing less than four thousand dollars, but with a capacity of about 10 tons of milk daily. It is provided with two Alpha separators and a Babcock tester and those who have tried the butter pronounce it fully up to the best produced in this section. Located near the edge of the marsh, with the northwest wind that sweeps across the bay, butting up against the butter room on the west side of the building, the room is cold storage without any further artificial aid than keeping the floor wet with cold water.

The water works of the firm, from which the creamery is supplied, are somewhat extensive and are fed from near the head of a rocky gulch, watered by springs, some distance above their shingle mill. To provide against accident, they have a 23,000 gallon tank which is kept filled all the time and which can be used for butter making in case rains should color the spring water. The water, of which there is an abundance, not only supplies the creamery but is carried to the hog pen some distance below on the marsh, and on across their large tract of pasture land, over that of M.P. Roberts, adjoining and ending at the eastern terminus of the Arcata Water system on the Titlow place in town. A watering trough is placed in one corner of each lot of four fields into which the grazing lands are divided. These troughs and floats are placed so that cattle in either or all of the four fields can be supplied with the finest kind of pure water, a very valuable consideration in the manufacture of good butter.

The idea of utilizing marsh land for grass and clover producing pasture is new in this section, but the fact has been established to a certainty that no land on Arcata bottom produces better or richer pasture than the marsh land when once the salt water has been shut off from it. In proof of this, last year Harpst & Spring planted 20 acres in clover, simply scattering the seed upon the top of the ground, without either plowing or harrowing. Now the clover is well set, looks rank and fine, while the old marsh grass is dying out and is replaced by a growth of tender young grass mixed with the clover. The firm has now sown 300 acres more of dyked land to clover and expect to have pasture in another year, together with their upland fields, to keep 300 head of milch cows.

AU (25 May 1895) The death of Mrs. Jessie, wife of Amos Foltz, at Bayside on Wednesday evening last was a sad blow to the family and friends of that much beloved lady.

Deceased had resided at Bayside for 24 years continuously and had long been a leader in church, temperance and social affairs. She leaves, besides a husband and seven children, one sister in Arcata, Mrs. Hadley, and some brothers and sisters in Oakland, to mourn her loss. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. Baesler of Blue Lake conducted the religious service.

FE (16 Aug. 1895) Russell, the bicycle thief who escaped week before last from one of Eureka's constables, was captured last Friday at the Jacoby Creek quarry and is now in Sheriff Brown's retreat....

AU (23 Nov. 1895) About 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon the residence of Amos Foltz at Bayside took fire from a defective flue and was totally consumed. The house contained six rooms and under its roof the family of children have been raised, some of whom are grown up. There also, Mrs. Foltz died a few months ago. But little was saved from the house, even the clothing of the children was burned.

AU (7 Dec. 1895) It is rather amusing to see men trolling for salmon in the bay when a man can take a spear or a shot-gun and kill all he can carry in Jacoby creek, in a short time.

BLA (25 April 1896) Mr. F.E. Ferguson, the popular bookkeeper for Messrs. Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. of Bayside...reports that times in Bayside promise to be quite lively this summer. At present the three shingle mills belonging to Messrs. Flanigan, Brosnan & Co., Harpst & Spring, and Wm. Carson, respectively, are running full blast, thus giving employment to quite a number of men. The Jacoby Creek quarry will soon present a busy appearance and it is expected that about 200 men will be employed there this season.

AU (2 May 1896) A Presbyterian Church will be organized at Bayside next Tuesday evening by a committee consisting of Revs. Adsit, Baesler, and Todd and Elders Cullberg and Shauntly, who were appointed by the Presbytery of Benicia at its last meeting in San Rafael.

AU (9 May 1896) Bayside Church--After considerable preparation a Presbyterian Church was organized at Bayside last Tuesday evening. For some years, Rev. Mr. Todd of Arcata and lately Rev. Mr. Baesler of Blue Lake had supplied the pulpit there, Rev. Mr. Nesbitt of Eureka alternating with Mr. Baesler. In the organization Rev. Mr. Todd acted as chairman and the new church was named the Calvary Presbyterian Church. Rev. Wm. Baesler, pastor of the church, 16 in all, baptized one adult and two children, and administered the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. In the communion service, he was assisted by Elders Cullberg and Smith of Arcata and J.M. Thompson of Eureka. Rev. S.M. Adsit of the Presbyterian Church of Eureka preached the organization sermon from the words: "When the Son of Man cometh shall He find faith on the earth?" and made the prayer of consecration. The new church has a most auspicious outlook. Among the members are the heads of many of the most influential families at Bayside.

AU (9 May 1896) The dance at Bayside on the evening of May 1st was the event of the season. The attendance was very large and a number of young people from Arcata and Eureka were in attendance.

AU (30 May 1896) Road to Eureka—The present road between Eureka and Arcata was located upon the same principle that were Indian trails in the early days. Whereon the least obstruction was found there was the course run, without regard to altitude or other difficulties. Leaving Eureka, the road should follow the edge of the marsh so as to avoid Ryan Slough hill and changed in other places so as to leave as little grade as possible.

AU (20 June 1896) A Fatal Accident--News reached Arcata on Sunday that an accident had happened at the Jacoby Creek quarry by the premature discharge of a blast by which Michael Kirrane was killed and Patrick Barry badly injured. The Times says: At the time the men were charging a blast hole with giant powder, using for this purpose an iron pipe through which the sticks of powder were pushed to the bottom of the hole to avoid the chance of explosion by the concussion that would result from dropping the powder loosely into the hole. The powder was well thawed and some of it quite soft, in which condition, it is liable to be exploded by the slightest concussion. This was probably the cause of the accident Sunday, as one of the soft sticks of powder had been mashed out of shape, thus choking the pipe and it was while attempting to dislodge it that the explosion occurred. Barry was holding the pipe with both hands and Kirrane was prodding the powder in the pipe with a bar of half inch round iron, one end of which was bent in the form of a ring to serve as a grip to the hand.

When the explosion occurred both men were blown away from the hole and when Kirrane was picked up, it was found that the iron bar had been shot through his body and was protruding from his back. This was the handle end and by it the bar was afterward pulled out of the injured man's body. The broad handle end of the bar had entered from the front just below the shoulder and close to the left side, where it tore a large hole and passed diagonally through the body and the lower part of the left shoulder blade, from which it protruded. In addition to the injury it was found that both forearms had been broken but despite his horrible wounds, Kirrane lived nearly two hours.

Barry's condition was not so serious but being well advanced in years, his injuries may prove troublesome. He is a resident of Arcata and was taken to the Arcata Sanitarium for treatment.

The dead man was a native of Ireland, aged about 24 years, and was a fine specimen of manhood, being about 6 feet 4 inches tall and built proportionately. He came here a few months ago from San Francisco and was expecting to return there in a few weeks to become a member of the police force. He was unmarried and his only known relative is an uncle, John Kenny, resident of San Francisco and to whom the body was shipped.

Barry has been unfortunate. One year ago last spring he had his leg broken in the quarry and was laid up with it for about five months.

BLA (10 Oct. 1896) Mr. John C. Monroe, formerly of Blue Lake, came up from Bayside en route to his father's ranch at the mouth of Grouse Creek where he intends to spend a couple of weeks hunting. Mr. Monroe has been employed in the Carson shingle mill at Bayside for some time past and reports that the mill, which is operated by contract by Mr. Hans Anderson, is now running in full blast. Bayside has three shingle mills and a creamery, besides being close to the Jacoby Creek quarry and when every institution is in operation that little town does not feel the pressure of hard times. Mr. Monroe tells us that the night crew of the quarry was ordered to quit work last Saturday night for the balance of the season, but about 50 men are still employed there in the day time.

Quite a number of young folks went down from Arcata and Sandy Garcelon kindly afforded free passage for all who cared to go. Much fun was caused by the auctioning of the baskets and one Arcata young lady had her basket purchased by a young man who was either too bashful or too hungry to invite her to participate in the good things, so went off in a corner and ate them alone. He was still alive at last accounts.

AU (27 Jan. 1900) At Jacoby Creek--Mr. D.S. Newell of Fortuna, who has taken the contract to furnish logs for Flanigan & Brosnan's mill on the bay, was in Arcata on business Thursday.

Mr. Newell says work will be commenced in the woods on or about the first of February, when a crew of 40 men will be put to work. Nothing will be done but chopping and peeling until April 1st, when the first burning will be done. Unless it is an exceptionally good spring, no logs will be hauled before June 1st. It is expected that the mill will start up about the same time.

When running full blast, Mr. Newell will have a crew of about 65 men, which with the men employed at the mill and on the railroad will make about 130 men employed and not 250 as has been reported from other sources.

George H. Newell will have immediate charge of the work under his father and will constantly be at the scene of operations. Mr. D.S. Newell will continue to reside in Fortuna and will visit the work at regular intervals.

Mr. Newell's contract only calls for the delivery of the logs on the cars and F&B will deliver them to deep water, where they will be rafted to their mill. Mr. Newell is having a large bull donkey built for the work at Pine's foundry in Eureka. Langford Bros. are building the boiler, which will be a locomotive boiler and fire box. The bull donkey will be set up on the landing. Mr. Newell has contracted to remove all the timber from this claim, which is on the main creek. This work, it is estimated, will take more than ten years. The logging crew will occupy the upper cook house and buildings formerly used in the quarry operations. All of the rigging and other apparatus was brought up by rail from Scotia to Eureka, transferred to a barge and towed to the Bayside pier, from where it was taken to the woods, arriving there on Thursday. Two donkeys will be used for the operations, one of which has arrived. The other will be brought up later. Mr. Newell will probably use a donkey in connection with the bull donkey to draw in the cable.

Bayside people and others are glad to have things open up again. The mill and woods have been shut down for five or six years. It is probable that the mill will have a long run.

A contract was closed with D.S. Newell and Son Saturday that means that the mill will be supplied with logs in the spring. Needed repairs will be made and not many months will have past before the plant is again running full blast. The re-opening of the properties of Messrs. Flanigan & Brosnan means the employment of about 250 men, all told. D.S. AU (19 May 1900) Disastrous Fire--A bad fire which occurred at Flanigan & Brosnan's barn above the quarry on Tuesday evening resulted in the loss of 8 heavy draft horses, 4 sets of harness, several tons of hay and grain and other valuable articles. The flames broke out about 9:30 in the evening and the whole building burned rapidly. The stable door was locked and could not be forced open in time to save the poor animals. A member of the firm places the loss at $2500 but before the outfit can be replaced, it will probably cost nearer $3000. The loss comes at an unfortunate time, right in the midst of the busy season and draft horses are scarce and higher price. The firm has purchased a heavy team from Howard Barter and are on the look out for more teams.

AU (19 May 1900) Papers have recently been signed whereby Edw. B. Carr, Philip Calanchini and Silvio Comisto, all of Ferndale, agree on November 1st to buy of Harpst & Spring and Flanigan & Brosnan, a tract of land consisting in round numbers of about 400 acres. This tract all lies south of the county road and reaches from the Titlow ranch on the west to the Bayside store on the east and around to the mouth of Jacoby Creek, skirting the bay shore. In the Harpst & Spring property is reserved the creamery and railroad rights of way with what land is necessary for their operation. Flanigan, Brosnan & Co. also reserve their store, mill, roundhouses, etc. and necessary land. Of the 400 acres, 300 is reclaimed land and the remainder, cleared bottom land over which the salt water has never flowed. The reclaimed land has been dyked for about eight years and makes as good pasture as bottom land. The greater part is seeded to Italian rye grass which with the wild clover which springs up when the salt water is taken off, makes fine feed.

The three gentlemen who made the purchase are practical dairymen and wide awake business men. It is their intention to divide the tract up into four or five good ranches, putting houses, barns and necessary buildings on each and renting to practical dairymen. This is just what the Union has always hoped and predicted would be done with the reclaimed land lying near town. It will add to the property and advancement of Arcata and will as we believe prove a profitable investment to the purchasers. In view of the location and the fact that lands are rising in value, the price paid was quite reasonable.

AU (26 May 1900) Bayside--The first load of logs from Newell's camp passed through Bayside Thursday. The last load of redwood logs hauled over this road was, we believe, in the fall of '93. Bayside is now entering upon an era of lively times.

Mr. Reid has done a good job on the buildings and they are very comfortable and conveniently arranged. The first meal was partaken of by 35 men. James McClosky of Eureka is the chief cook and serves up fine meals. The floating cook house and bunk house have been moved further up on the Eureka end and the two camps are now about two miles apart. There are about 90 men on the other end and work is being rushed with all possible haste.

AU (27 Oct. 1900) Ready for Occupancy--Improvements on the C.C.C. Ranch About Completed--Some time ago mention was made of the purchase of a tract of dairying land near Bayside by Messrs. E.B. Carr, P. Calanchini and S. Comisto, all of Ferndale, from Harpst & Spring and Flanigan & Brosnan. The tract consisted of 335 acres of land, a large portion of which was reclaimed marsh land. The land contained no buildings or improvements, as it was the intention of the new owners to make it a model dairy ranch, bids were asked for the erection of the buildings. Hill & Acorn were the successful bidders and the work was completed but a few days ago and the buildings will be ready for occupancy by Nov. 1st. The first building is the cottage for the family, a cosy six-room house, 20x20 feet with an L 16x24 feet. It has a commodious wood shed at the rear and the sitting room is fitted with a fireplace. Altogether when completed, it will be a cosy home. It is now ready for the painters and paper hangers. This work is to be done by E.G. Pluke of Eureka. Immediately to the rear of this cottage is the lodging house for the hired help which is 20x25 feet, containing four rooms. Next comes the wagon shed, 20x30 feet, to be used for storing wagons and agricultural implements so as not to take up unnecessary room in the barn. The big barn is 78x150 feet and is as fine a structure as can be found in this part of the country. It has 24 foot posts and the eaves slope to within ten feet of the ground. A twelve-foot space on either side of the barn is set aside for the cows and will accommodate 50 on a side, or 100 in all. Toward the center between the cows and the hay mow are twelve-foot driveways, one on each side. By this means, a team can drive in one end of the barn, drop off the green feed in front of the cows, and drive out at the other end. The hay mow is through the center and the hay rests on the floor. It is put in by means of a patent carrier which works to perfection. In one end of the barn in a space 25x30 feet is a horse stable with accommodations for eight head of horses. The barn is 37 feet high at the peak and is open and well ventilated. It is very solidly built from foundation to roof, the beams and rafters being braced in every direction. The sills are of "sinker" redwood and the foundation blocks are placed every six feet under the whole structure.

One of the best features about the ranch is the abundance of fresh water. On one end of the property Jacoby Creek cuts in and on the other side Beith Creek. Ditches carry the water from these streams to the places where the stock can be watered. Besides this there is at present being constructed a water system which will give an abundance of running water to the house and barn. On the Harpst & Spring property across the road is a boggy place at the foot of the hill. Here four springs have been tapped and by means of 3-inch tiling the water is conveyed to a settling box by two main pipes. About 20 feet below this box is placed a 3500 gallon tank built at Korbel. This is used as a storage tank and the water is conveyed from this by a pipeline to the house and barn on the slope below. This gives about a 30 foot fall and an abundance of water all the year around. It is estimated that the springs will yield 4000 gallons per day while 2500 gallons will be ample for all purposes. The overflow from the tank will run into a trough to be used in connection with the ranch owned by Harpst & Spring on which the tank stands. The tank settling box and pipes are all put far enough under ground so that the place can be ploughed over. This water system will drain the piece of ground which at the present time is practically worthless. The work is being done by C.L. Bottle of Ferndale, who has had considerable experience in putting in gravity water systems. More than the 1100 feet of pipe will be used to carry the water.

The lessee of the ranch is C.E. Sacchi, who has operated the Zane dairy ranch at Elk river for the past 8 years and also the creamery at that place. The gentleman is a practical dairy and creamery man and will undoubtedly meet with success in his venture. He will start with 90 head of cows, but it is expected that in the course of a couple of years that 200 head can be carried. This would necessitate the building of another large barn which will undoubtedly be done when the proper time comes.

The contractors for the job, G.F. Hill and Herbert Acorn, have done a fine piece of work and Mr. Carr expresses himself as more than pleased with the way in which the work has been done. They were assisted by Mr. Seymour Acorn and the three accomplished what it was intended four men should do by working a little over time. They not only finished the work before the required time but did it to the entire satisfaction of the owners of the ranch. Mr. Sacchi will move his family up and take possession about Nov. 1st. He also has most of his hay stored in the big barn.

Messrs. Carr, Calanchini and Comisto are to be congratulated upon their venture. When all improvements are completed they will have expended about $30,000 in their investment. It adds much to the wealth of this section, brings in desirable settlers and encourages others to improve and build up our county. Mr. Carr personally has done some good work in selling dairy lands and inducing thrifty Ferndalers to settle in this section and it is sincerely hoped that he and his partners will reap golden returns from their investments. The Union is please to chronicle such improvements and hopes to see the good work continue.

AU (27 Oct. 1900) Messrs. Hill and Acorn have been busy the past few days making repairs on the old Lauffer house, which stands on the ranch owned by Harpst & Spring. They have put weather boarding on the outside and built a kitchen on the rear, 14x16 feet. They have also been engaged in making some improvements upon the Union shingle mill and expect to do some more work on the shingle mill at Bayside.

AU (19 Jan. 1901) The Bayside Mill and Lumber Co. is building an addition to their store building, which will be fitted up for an office.

AU (19 Jan. 1901) Probably the busiest railroad center in Humboldt county at present is on the marsh near Harpst & Spring's shingle wharf, where four railroads will soon cross and re-cross each other in an intricate manner. The four lines are the Bayside Mill & Lumber Co.'s, Eureka and Klamath River Railroad Co., California & Northern, and Harpst & Springs' "one mule railroad."

W.J. Mathews and crew of the E.K.R.R.R. Co. is engaged in building a 600 foot switch which will connect all four railroads....The switch is being put in for the primary purpose of moving the Harpst & Spring shingle wharf to the mouth of the slough or about 1200 feet below its present location. This change will obviate the necessity of the two companies now building around the bay from building an expensive draw bridge over this slough....When completed it will be possible for a train to run from Newell's Camp above Bayside to Samoa or Mad river.

BLA (9 March 1901) Death, son of Mr. and Mrs. T.A. Orcutt, March 6 at Bayside, age 2 weeks and 4 days.

AU (9 March 1901) Old Firm Dissolves Partnership--As will be seen by the legal announcement in another column, the old established firm of Harpst & Spring is no more. The interest of O.H. Spring in the late firm has been purchased by John Harpst, who assumes all liabilities, and to whom the accounts are to be paid.

The beginning of the present business was made by John Harpst and W.J. McKenna, afterwards county clerk of Humboldt. The two opened a general merchandise store on the plaza about where Galey's barber shop is located in the year 1873. Two years later McKenna retired and O.H. Spring and George Harpst, Sr. entered the firm. The big fire of 1875 burned them out, and the store was reopened in a frame building formerly occupied by B. McConnaha about the site of the present store. The same year the brick store was built, which has been occupied ever since. In 1883, Geo. Harpst retired from the firm, which was continued under the name of Harpst & Spring up to the present time. In 1882, the Union mill was built and was burned down in 1889, but was rebuilt the same year. In 1885 the H.&S. creamery was built. The firm during all these years has added considerable to its possessions in timber and farming land.

The property conveyed to Mr. Harpst consists of some 2000 acres of land, all lying east and north of the county road to Eureka. It consists principally of redwood timber land and land that has been logged over, while at Bowles Prairie there is about 500 acres of bottom land, part of which is cleared. The Titlow and Pardee ranches were also owned by the firm, but were sold to Ferndale parties last year. The transfer includes the store, mill, creamery, tramway, wharves, barns and other buildings. There are still some other transfers to be made in the way of stock and fixtures.

It will seem strange to people in this vicinity to not know the old established firm of Harpst & Spring any more. Of the employees, David Burrows has been with the firm 18 years and Thomas Emmerson 20 years.

Although nothing definite has been given out, it is more than probable that there will be some further transfers made of different parts of the property before a great while. Negotiations are now pending and other changes are expected soon.

AU (16 March 1901) A Strong Combination--Last week the Union reported the dissolution of the old firm of Harpst & Spring and intimated that further important changes would soon follow. On Thursday a deal was consummated whereby the Harpst & Spring creamery below town was sold by John Harpst to a company composed of C.E. Sacchi, Peter Johansen, L. Rasmussen, Peter Mazza and William Spaletta. Mr. Sacchi is the lessee of the Carr, Calanchini and Comisto ranch at Bayside, composed of about 240 acres. Messrs. Johansen and Rasmussen are the owners of what was formerly the Titlow ranch below Arcata and dairy about 175 acres. Peter Mazza leases the M.P. Roberts ranch of 200 acres and also the Wm. Hill ranch of 35 acres on the bottom and Wm. Spaletta occupies the ranch owned by Thos. Bair, comprising in the neighborhood of 300 acres. The company controls the milk of about 500 cows and is said to be the strongest creamery combination in Humboldt county. The new owners will take possession on April 1st. Ed. B. Carr of Ferndale represented Mr. Harpst in the matter and closed the deal. Further changes in the property are expected soon and will be announced in due time.

AU (23 March 1901) Big Land Sale--Another big sale of the John Harpst property was made this week and the papers will be signed Monday. John Larsen, a well known resident of Arcata, buys 480 acres and Charles Grotzman, who owns considerable property in this vicinity, purchased about 1100 or 1200 acres more. The property is known as the Arbuckle, Bowles, Fickle and Lauffer places and takes in all the land owned by Mr. Harpst with the exception of the 20 acres--the site of the Union shingle mill. The right to cut all the timber on the land suitable for shingle bolts is also reserved by Mr. Harpst. Mr. Grotzman intends to cut the land up into small ranches and sell it off to permanent settlers as rapidly as possible. He will build roads to connect with the county road and will offer every inducement to prospective purchasers. It is his intention to reserve about 500 acres for his own use. A large part of the land is covered with brush, which, when cleared, will be as good dairy or farming land as any on Arcata bottom. Every person interested in the growth and welfare of northern Humboldt should rejoice to see these large holdings cut up, thus paving the way for new settlers and bringing increased property.

BLA (23 March 1901) The grand St. Patrick's Day ball given at Bayside last Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Korbel Concert Band, proved to be a grand success in every particular. People came in to attend from all the neighboring towns and by 10 o'clock the hall was literally filled to the utmost capacity. The music furnished by the band was greatly appreciated, so were the services of floor manager Chris Hanson of Korbel and his valuable aids. Mrs. Dyer served a splendid supper at midnight and all present had a most enjoyable time.

Foster of Arcata. Mr. Foster, who has leased the place, has already put three men to work cleaning out the old kiln and is removing the old drawback, the lack of a road by building a new one. John Tracy, the veteran brick and lime man of Arcata, has been engaged to build the kiln. Mr. Tracy's private opinion, after testing much of the lime rock in the vicinity of the kiln, is that it is some of the best he ever handled and is the equal of the lime obtained from the noted kiln at Rogue River kiln in Oregon. Mr. Tracy is a man of experience along these lines and he admits that if properly conducted this kiln should produce profitably.

AU (24 June 1911) On Wednesday of this week, the Union Shingle Company of Arcata consisting of Charles Harpst, Louis Larsen, T.R. Emerson, George Harpst and Henry P. Carr, passed out of existence as a corporation and the plant, located about a mile from town was closed down. The old mill and machinery have been sold to Charles Grotzman, upon whose land the buildings stand, and Mr. Grotzman has several thousand cords of bolts on which he will make into shingles later.

The mill was built in 1896 by Harpst & Spring, who operated it until 1902, when the Union Shingle Company, mentioned above, bought them out. Messrs. Harpst, Larsen and Emerson were the principal stockholders, Messrs. Carr and Geo. Harpst owning one share each. Charles Harpst acted as manager, Mr. Emerson kept the books and attended to the clerical work, and Louis Larsen did the teaming. Harry Carr has worked in the mill as sawyer during the 15 years that it has been in operation.

The mill has been running for about four months this summer to clean up a quantity of bolts which were on hand. The shingles have all been sold and the Union Shingle Company has passed into history. Manager Charles Harpst severed his connection with the plant on Wednesday and stated that all he had to do to move was to whistle to the dog and cluck to his horse to “get up.”

The gentlemen expect to increase the size of their dairy herd, since the land they are clearing will enable them to produce an abundance of green feed and hay. An acre of berries is to be set out this season on a plot of ground well adapted for that purpose and no doubt a portion of the crop will in time be handled in the plant of the Humboldt Fruit Packers Association at Arcata.

AU (1 April 1915) Bayside Notes--With the first evidences of approaching spring seems to have come an awakening spirit in the social movements of our people. Like the trees and plants that have remained dormant during the winter months and with the first warm days of spring are now sending forth their leaves and blossoms, so also has the seemingly active social spirit been moved to action. A real jolly crowd it was that gathered at the little hall located near the store last Wednesday evening. It was the second of a series of "get together" meetings which are said to be in store for the future season and judging from the attendance and the happy spirit which prevailed throughout the evening, future socials will be looked forward to with great interest. The evening was spent in dancing and in playing various games. Music was furnished by Mr. H.N. Halvorsen on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Halvorsen on the organ. Light refreshments were served. Everyone brought his smile, which helped to make the meeting a most enjoyable affair.

AU (8 April 1915) Bayside Notes--Last Tuesday evening a farmers' meeting was held here and plans were discussed for the organization of a local Farm Center. Mr. A. Elliott was elected chairman of the meeting. Farm Adviser A.H. Christiansen was present and spoke at length on the subject of farm cooperation and outlined the work of the Farm Center movement. Mr. R.L. Werner, Secretary of the Humboldt County Farm Bureau, was also present and made a few brief remarks regarding the business side of the Farm Bureau. About ten farmers signified their willingness to organize a permanent Farm Center here and a number of others promised their support should such an organization be effected.

After some discussion by different farmers present, it was decided to hold another meeting on Friday evening, April 9th. At that time, women are invited to be present, refreshments will be served and a social time enjoyed. A good crowd is expected to attend that meeting and the farmers hope to perfect the proposed new organization.

The morning of April first found the banks of Jacoby Creek and other smaller streams of this vicinity lined with enthusiastic fishermen. While Jacoby Creek was not in the best condition for good fishing, owing to the fact that work at the quarry is causing the water to become somewhat muddy, a number of very good catches have been reported.

AU (15 April 1915) Bayside Notes--Mr. Dickson, superintendent of the Jacoby Creek quarry, made a business trip to Eureka Monday. The gentleman states that about 200 men are now employed at the quarry and that four or five barges of rock are being sent to the jetties daily. Two locomotives are being used to haul the rock from the quarry to the wharf.

AU (15 April 1915) Bayside Notes (13 April 1915) At a meeting held here last Friday night, the farmers of this community organized a Farm Center with a charter membership of ten. Mr. A. Elliott was elected president of the new organization and Clarence Anvick secretary. The meeting was first addressed by Mr. R.L. Werner, Secretary of the Farm Bureau, who discussed the future plans of the Farm Bureau. This was followed by a discussion of questions on lime, Sudan grass, and the feeding of dairy cows. Farm Advisor Christiansen gave a very interesting talk on "Balanced Rations," using the blackboard to illustrate the principles of the scientific feeding of dairy cows. This was of special interest to dairymen and led to a lively discussion of feeding questions. After the business session and program, refreshments were served by the farm ladies, this being followed by a social time in which everybody took an active part, and it was nearly midnight before the little hall was vacated.

AU (22 April 1915) Bayside Notes (20 April 1915) Sunday, being a fine day, found the road lined with automobiles, motorcycles and buggies. There seemed to be almost a continuous stream of traffic, everyone seeming to enjoy the sunshine and fresh air and the ride over good roads through the rural districts.

AU (22 April 1915) Morton L. Tower Killed in Accident--A serious accident occurred near the Jacoby Creek quarry early last Thursday afternoon when a gasoline track car with Lieutenant Colonel T.H. Rees, Engineer Morton L. Tower and Supt. E.W. Dickson of the Pacific Engineering and Construction Company, as passengers, and C.A. Tucston as driver jumped the track a short distance from the upper quarry, throwing all of the four men into the gulch some eight or ten feet below. The injured men were picked up by a rock train which happened to be coming up the track behind the track car and were immediately taken to Bayside....

The party had gone to the quarry for the purpose of inspecting the work and Colonel Rees, having arrived on the steamer that morning, arranged with Engineer Tower for a trip to the quarry in the afternoon. Mr. Dickson met the two gentlemen in Eureka taking them over in his automobile as far as the end of the wagon road, which extends toward the quarry. There they were met by Tucston with the track car and taken up the track behind the work train, which was proceeding to the quarry. They succeeded in passing the train some distance up the track and went on ahead till they reached the upper end of the high trestle a short distance below the upper quarry. The grade at that point is very steep, about 8 or 10 percent. The car left the track after it had passed the highest point of the trestle and this is fortunate for had it been derailed at a point some 80 or 90 feet farther down the track the result would probably have been far worse as the highest point is about 25 or 30 feet above the creek with nothing but large boulders and driftwood below....Morton L. Tower has been in charge of the jetty construction on Humboldt Bay since March 1912 and was one of the best known engineers on the Pacific coast....

AU (20 May 1915) Bayside Farm Center Meets (18 May)--At its first regular meeting last Wednesday night, the Bayside Farm Center held one of the most successful meetings of its kind held in this community for some time. A splendid program had been arranged by Messrs. J. Dubeault and W.R. Graham, members of the committee of arrangements for that occasion. One of the features of the evening was a song by a quartet composed of students of the Humboldt State Normal School. A vocal solo by Mr. Clyde Sage was well received. This was followed by a splendid talk on "Horticulture" by Prof. J.B. Corcoran of the Normal School faculty....The gentleman stated that Humboldt County has a bright future in the fruit industry and strongly emphasized the importance of taking better care of the orchards. Dr. B.J. Cady of the U.S. Bureau of Animal Industry was next introduced by Farm Adviser Christiansen. The gentleman took for his subject "Hog Cholera and Its Prevention." The lecture was illustrated by means of stereopticon slides showing views of hog farms in many of the eastern states, conditions that are favorable for the spread of disease and also the method of using the anti hog-cholera serum and virus. How the anti hog-cholera serum and viruses is manufactured was shown and explained in detail and figures showing the percent of hogs infected with cholera in each state was given....

After the program and business meeting, the floor was cleared for dancing, music being furnished by Mr. and Mrs .H. Halvorsen on the violin and organ. Later refreshments were served after which dancing was resumed and continued until a late hour.

There was a good attendance and many matters of interest to farmers were brought up. Business Agent R.L. Werner addressed the meeting upon subjects relating to Farm Bureau activities, special emphasis was placed upon the subject of the standardization of such products as potatoes and fruits. He urged all farmers interested in fruit raising to co-operate with the newly-organized Fruit Growers' Association in producing a better grade of fruit. Farm Adviser Christiansen spoke on "The Grading and Marketing" of farm products and told how the Bureau expects to handle the apples or other fruit produced by members. Following this, Mr. Christiansen made soil tests from samples brought to the meeting, having brought with him the necessary laboratory equipment for that purpose. How to test accurately the acidity of soils was also shown. After the business session and program, a social time was enjoyed. Later refreshments were served by Mesdames C.E. Sacchi, W.R. Graham, Elmer Baxter, Chas. Burchard and A. Elliott.

So crowded was the little hall that standing room was at a premium. Following a discussion of agricultural problems by Farm Advisor Christiansen, Mr. Chas. Duck and two children of Eureka kept the crowd in an uproar with humorous recitations and songs. Through the courtesy of Misses Harmon and Morrison, teachers of the Bayside school, the school cooperated with the Center in carrying out the program, singing several songs. A folk dance in which several small school girls took part was also well received. AU (18 May 1922) Prize Steelhead Taken on Fly in Jacoby Creek--Geo. Unsoeld of A. Brizard, Inc., caused some surprise among our local anglers by taking far up Jacoby Creek on Sunday a fine steelhead, measuring 29 inches in length and weighing 6 3/4 pounds [?]. The lure used was a No.12 red ant and the fish put up a game fight before the angler landed him. The fish had a brilliant marking along the sides which caused some discussion as to the classification. If there is any doubt about a steelhead just insert a finger in the fish's mouth and there will be found a double row of teeth running down the central bone or vomer in the upper jaw. A trout has no teeth on the front part of the vomer, which fact alone is enough to bear in mind in the identification of this gamiest of fish. Mr. Unsoeld is justly proud of his catch and should be as the specimen is the largest fish taken from Jacoby Creek on a fly for a good many years.

SBF 23:269 (30 July 1937) Jacoby Creek Tract Is Opened By Barnum for Summer Home Seekers--The opening of a virgin territory for the sportsman, a paradise for the outdoor enthusiast and a substantial, fertile tract for the summer home seeker was announced yesterday by F.B. Barnum, Inc.

The tract is a logged-off area between Jacoby Creek and Freshwater which in 1867 was obtained from President Grant with script held by the late Senator Haines of Nevada....The authority to Barnum yesterday to subdivide and sell the tract provides an opportunity for every moderate wage earner to own and maintain a convenient easily accessible summer dwelling.

In the center of the property is the 20-foot Jacoby Creek falls, abounding above in steelhead trout, below in the cherished Dolly Varden and Rainbow varieties. Wild game is frequently encountered during the hunting season. "The land, fertile and 2000 feet high, out of the fog belt, affords a splendid view of Humboldt Bay," Mr. Charles Barnum said. "Temperatures are moderate and the property is accessible from the county highways."

Free building material will be provided persons erecting summer homes according to company plans. Stone is obtainable from an old quarry on the tract. Much timber also is available there, should a builder prefer a log cabin.

The tracts will prove ideal for local equestrians since much grass land is available in the area and countless bridle trails may be utilized....

AU (6 Sept. 1940) Bo-Peep. Bayside Fun--An open-air dance is really and truly going to take place on the newly erected floor of the new Bayside Grange-to-be. The dance will occur on September 14th, weather permitting. There will be a huge bonfire and there will also be a hot chicken supper. Boy!

AU (20 Sept. 1940) Bo-Peep. Bayside Dances. Last Saturday night a record crowd of people gathered in Bayside to dance on the new Grange floor in the open air. The party, very obviously, was a tremendous success. As one approached the pavilion, gaily strung with colored lights, it looked like a top-of-the-season summer resort dance. Most of the crowd danced, while others gathered on benches around a huge bonfire.

The music was very good and we never saw anybody get such two-fisted pleasure out of ripping up and down the ivories as did piano-player, Mrs. Atlant Dolson. Rollo Guthridge, with his shirt collar up about his neck, in true Byronic fashion and with eyes squeezed shut, dragged every possible bit of swing from his trumpet. As far as our wee groupie (ugh) could see, fashion favorites of the evening were Mrs. Audrey Lynn in a very good looking light sports coat over a darker dress and hair smoothly streamlined and Mrs. Hal Guthridge, Jr. with a bright red coat over a black dress with a very smart collar and her blonde hair making a surefire contrast.

We can't mention everyone who was there because there were so many, not just from Bayside, but all over....The high spot of the evening was the hot chicken supper. Oh my, but we still would like to wring the neck of the young boy who piled THREE plates of chicken in front of himself and left the rest of us to yearn futilely. I guess that's all.

AU (13 Dec. 1940)Work is progressing rapidly on the new Grange hall with a large crew of men working every Sunday. The framework of the main building is about completed and work has started on the wall and roof.

Work on Hall--Last Sunday many Bayside Grange members worked on the new hall and others helped with the furniture that was moved from Eureka to the new hall. Windows and doors were put in place, a store room sealed up and work on the floor are some of the things the crew did getting the hall in readiness for the dance.

AU (7 March 1941) Bayside News--Bayside Grange's opening dance last Saturday night turned out to be a decided success. It is estimated that nearly 500 people attended the dance during the evening.
