

Navigating the City of Arcata Financial Transparency Portal

To provide the public with access to the City's historic financial data, the City has produced and distributed the annual City Budgets and audited financial statements electronically, via the City's website. To expand the public's access to current financial information the City, through OpenGov's transparency platform, has made available revenue and expense data in a format that can analyze, share and compare the financial data.

The Transparency Portal contains budget and actual financial data from fiscal year ending June 30, 2023, to date. The portal is updated each night, so data is current with the prior day's financial transactions.
